My 10 Tips for Teaching on Tiktok

TIP #1:

Mix up length of videos.

- Shorter videos (under 15-30 seconds) are great for getting your voice in content and share quickly as they're so easy to watch, especially when you have short attention spans. This will help with retention and getting more views.
- Longer videos are great for building trust, depth of knowledge

10 TIPS FOR BUILDING A LEARNING COMMUNITY ON

Adapted from my E-Book:
"Teaching on TikTok:
A Guide to Growing Your Own Learning Community"
By Kendall Barger

...this is the app,
not
being on camera

- Do not change who you are or try to get followers on the app.
- People will respond to your unique voice, personality, and energy, and you don't have to be young, flashy, or "trendy" or bring people to your space.
- There is nothing too insignificant or small to teach on people. A successful teaching video can absolutely be 1 sentence long.
- Break larger concepts down into extremely simple, shortened clips. This will help you create more videos out of one general topic AND be a great teaching strategy.
- People learn better when information is chunked.
- It's also not Reels. TikTok as a space online has a distinct presence & feel that Reels lacks as it's part of a larger platform (IG).
- You can post multiple times a day.
- You can have "low-quality made" videos still do extremely well.
- Many "rules" of IG do not apply here.

TikTok is not the same as your normal social networking site, while having many similarities to popular social media sites like Twitter and Instagram. The algorithm is very unique to other platforms. TikTok uses a unique algorithm to guarantee that every video has an equal chance of becoming popular, regardless of how well-known the content creator is. This opens up space for quick expansion and growth of social media presences, rapid growth, and practically endless marketing experimentation. What shows up in a user's feed is determined by an algorithm used by TikTok. Every video has a chance of going viral thanks to the intriguing manner that its discovery algorithm works. To attract interested audiences who are ready to buy your products, you can quickly and easily create a TikTok video promoting a product. The main distinction between TikTok and other social media platforms, particularly Facebook and Instagram, is that the homepages of the latter two are primarily made up of users and channels you already follow. You might be wondering why TikTok has been used to market things. TikTok operates in the opposite manner, giving new creator videos priority.
