Teaching and Learning at a Distance Michael Simonson, Susan Zvacek, 2024-01-01 Teaching and Learning at a Distance is written for introductory distance education courses for preservice or in service teachers and for training programs that discuss teaching distant learners or managing distance education systems This text provides readers with the basic information needed to be knowledgeable distance educators and leaders of distance education programs The teacher or trainer who uses this book will be able to design courses evaluate programs and identify issues and trends affecting the field In this text we take the following themes The first theme is the definition of distance education Before we started writing the first edition of Teaching and Learning at a Distance we carefully reviewed the literature to determine the definition that would be at the foundation of our writing This definition is based on the work of Desmond Keegan but is unique to this book and has been adopted by the Association for Educational Communications and Technology and by the Encyclopedia Britannica The second theme of the book is the importance of research to the development of effective courses and programs offered at a distance The best practices presented in Teaching and Learning at a Distance are validated by scientific evidence Certainly there are rules of thumb but we have always attempted to only include recommendations that can be supported by research The third theme of Teaching and Learning at a Distance is derived from Richard Clark s famous quote published in the Review of Educational Research asserting that media are mere vehicles that do not directly influence achievement Clark s controversial work is discussed in the book but is also fundamental to the book s advocacy for distance education in other words we authors do not make the claim that education delivered at a distance is inherently better than other ways people learn Distance delivered instruction is not a magical approach that makes learners achieve more Equivalency theory is the fourth theme of the book Here we present the concept that instruction should be provided to learners that is equivalent rather than identical to what might be delivered in a traditional environment Equivalency theory helps the instructional designer approach the development of instruction for each learner without attempting to duplicate what happens in a face to face classroom The final theme for Teaching and Learning at a Distance is the idea that the book should be comprehensive that it should cover as much of the various ways instruction is made available to distant learners as is possible It can serve as a stand alone source of information

Youtube in the Language Classroom Sebastian Altenhoff,2011-02 Seminar paper from the year 2009 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Pedagogy Literature Studies grade 1 0 University of Duisburg Essen Anglophone Studien language English abstract According to Ellis learning a language means making use of the language in R schoff Wolff 1999 54 This not only implies the claim of free spontaneous communication but also of dealing with and of experiencing the target language as such The claim of experiencing the target language in the language classroom leads to a growing interest in the quality of the materials used According to Wolff 1998 any kind of learning no matter whether verbal or non verbal has to be embedded in a rich learning environment that has not been reduced concerning its complexity Authenticity is thus one of the main criteria in order to evaluate the quality of materials This criterion applies to all materials such as literature that have not been changed for the purpose of teaching and learning of course In this thesis however using authentic video in the language classroom will be considered and analysed according to its didactic benefits Integrating video in the language classroom does not necessarily mean having to watch and to analyse a whole film of ninety minutes Thanks to Web 2 0 applications such as YouTube the accessibility of short video clips advertisements or film excerpts has become very simple Because of the growing popularity of this webpage and of integrating Web 2.0 applications in the learning environments in general my entire analysis will relate to videos taken from YouTube This thesis aims to provide both a theoretical part I and a practical investigation part II of the topic in order to create a framework for analysis I will first of all give a short overview of the didactic benefits of integrating authentic video in the language classroom in general This survey is followed by a short description of the basic ideas of YouTube
