Loewen,2025-04-22 A posthumous book by the bestselling author of Lies My Teacher Told Me sharing the strategies and secrets of an award winning fifty year career as a college professor Not a few professors teach solely because they have to to hold a position that lets them do what they really want to do which is their work their research their writing Those professors miss the joys of teaching from the introduction to How to Teach College Widely known as the bestselling author of Lies My Teacher Told Me Everything Your American History Textbook Got Wrong James W Loewen who passed away in 2021 was a leading sociologist of race relations and a prizewinning college educator With a teaching career spanning over half a century at Tougaloo College Harvard University University of Vermont and Catholic University Loewen taught the way he wrote with creativity humor and a high expectation that students can handle the truth How to Teach College is an invaluable resource for professors teaching in increasingly fraught American classrooms With a special emphasis on teaching students from diverse backgrounds and potentially controversial subjects this posthumously published book comes to us in Loewen s vibrant original and inimitable voice In it he offers advice from the epic how to convey a love of one s topic and motivate students to become lifelong learners to the technical how to design a syllabus manage the classroom testing and grading all drawing on firsthand anecdotes from his own courses on sociology and race relations Edited by Loewen s son Nicholas Loewen a longtime high school teacher and sociology professor Michael Dawson How to Teach College is sure to inspire generations of teachers to come Left to Our Own Devices Margaret E. Morris,2024-05-21

Unexpected ways that individuals adapt technology to reclaim what matters to them from working through conflict with smart lights to celebrating gender transition with selfies We have been warned about the psychological perils of technology distraction difficulty empathizing and loss of the ability or desire to carry on a conversation But our devices and data are woven into our lives We can't simply reject them Instead Margaret Morris argues we need to adapt technology creatively to our needs and values In Left to Our Own Devices Morris offers examples of individuals applying technologies in unexpected ways uses that go beyond those intended by developers and designers Morris examines these kinds of personalized life hacks chronicling the ways that people have adapted technology to strengthen social connection enhance well being and affirm identity Morris a clinical psychologist and app creator shows how people really use technology drawing on interviews she has conducted as well as computer science and psychology research She describes how a couple used smart lights to work through conflict how a woman persuaded herself to eat healthier foods when her photographs of salads garnered likes on social media how a trans woman celebrated her transition with selfies and how through augmented reality a woman changed the way she saw her cancer and herself These and the many other off label adaptations described by Morris cast technology not just as a temptation that we struggle to resist but as a potential ally as we try to take care of ourselves and others The stories Morris tells invite us to be more intentional and creative when left to our own devices American Bee Journal
