Shaping the College Curriculum Lisa R. Lattuca, Joan S. Stark, 2011-01-11 Shaping the College Curriculum focuses on curriculum development as an important decision making process in colleges and universities The authors define curriculum as an academic plan developed in a historical social and political context They identify eight curricular elements that are addressed intentionally or unintentionally in developing all college courses and programs By exploring the interaction of these elements in context they use the academic plan model to clarify the processes of course and program planning enabling instructors and administrators to ask crucial questions about improving teaching and optimizing student learning This revised edition continues to stress research based educational practices The new edition consolidates and focuses discussion of institutional and sociocultural factors that influence curricular decisions All chapters have been updated with recent research findings relevant to curriculum leadership accreditation assessment and the influence of academic fields while two new chapters focus directly on learning research and its implications for instructional practice A new chapter drawn from research on organizational change provides practical guidance to assist faculty members and administrators who are engaged in extensive program improvements Streamlined yet still comprehensive and detailed this revised volume will continue to serve as an invaluable resource for individuals and groups whose work includes planning designing delivering evaluating and studying curricula in higher education This is an extraordinary book that offers not a particular curriculum or structure but a comprehensive approach for thinking about the curriculum ensuring that important considerations are not overlooked in its revision or development and increasing the likelihood that students will learn and develop in ways institutions hope they will The book brings coherence and intention to what is typically an unstructured haphazard and only partially rational process guided more by beliefs than by empirically grounded substantive information Lattuca and Stark present their material in ways that are accessible and applicable across planning levels course program department and institution local settings and academic disciplines It s an admirable and informative marriage of scholarship and practice and an insightful guide to both Anyone who cares seriously about how we can make our colleges and universities more educationally effective should read this book Patrick T Terenzini distinguished professor and senior scientist Center for the Study of Higher Education The Pennsylvania State University Resources in Education ,1998

ENC Focus ,2000 The Rise of the Curator Class Steffon Davis,2019-03-14 Pairing big ideas in marketing with the popular activity of content curation The Rise of the Curator Class positions curation as a humanization movement that is restructuring the internet Curation is set to overturn the 2 2 trillion global creative industry revolutionizing how we create market and discover content In the era of content overload and fake news in which everything to buy listen to read or watch is available online there is one group of people who have learned to thrive in this climate of superabundance the curator class whose influence and power grows as more people look to them as guides This new curator class is rewriting traditional curation tackling the overload and making sense of it for others In the past curation was available to an elite few Now internet platforms such as Pinterest Spotify and Twitter empower hundreds of millions of people to curate their ideas for anyone who may be interested revolutionizing how content is marketed and sold The Rise of the Curator Class explains how curation is disrupting internet commerce as consumer trust moves farther away from traditional brands and closer to the curators who lead tastes and it equips readers to think critically about how curation can work for them Michigan School Moderator ,1891 Sustaining and Improving Learning Communities Jodi Levine Laufgraben,Nancy S.
