Controlling The Offenders In The Community Reforming The Community Supervision Function:

Controlling the Offender in the Community Todd R. Clear, Vincent O'Leary, 1983 Handbook on Risk and Need Assessment Faye Taxman, 2016-11-10 The Handbook on Risk and Need Assessment Theory and Practice covers risk assessments for individuals being considered for parole or probation Evidence based approaches to such decisions help take the emotion and politics out of community corrections As the United States begins to back away from ineffective expensive policies of mass incarceration this handbook will provide the resources needed to help ensure both public safety and the effective rehabilitation of offenders The ASC Division on Corrections Sentencing Handbook Series will publish volumes on topics ranging from violence risk assessment to specialty courts for drug users veterans or the mentally ill Each thematic volume focuses on a single topical issue that intersects with corrections and sentencing research Federal Probation ,2001

Granting Felons Probation Joan Petersilia, 1985 This study represents the first systematic research on felony probationers It is based on data on individuals convicted of selected serious felonies in Superior Court in California who would have been likely candidates for prison It defines probation and reviews its history to the present documents the recidivism behavior of a selected sample of probationers and the implications for public safety analyzes the factors that influence the prison probation decision the consistency of their application and the recidivism of offenders with low moderate and high probabilities of imprisonment identifies the factors associated with recidivism discusses intermediate punishment intensive community based surveillance as a sentencing alternative describes operational programs and develops a sentencing process to establish which alternative is appropriate for a given offender Some of the conclusions suggested by the research are 1 felons granted probation present a serious threat to public safety 2 the factors specified by law as appropriate considerations in the prison probation decision strongly influence that decision in practice and should be used more consistently 3 given the information now routinely provided to the court the ability to predict which felons will succeed on probation cannot be vastly improved and 4 state criminal justice systems should develop punitive community based alternatives to prison for convicted felons Alternatives to Imprisonment in Comparative Perspective Uglješa Zvekić, Anna Alvazzi del Frate, 1994

Harm in American Penology Todd R. Clear, 1994 This book analyzes the sources and results of the fourfold increase in the U S correctional population since 1970 It considers the following themes the value of punitiveness defined as penal harm research on crime and criminals concerns about victims of crime and concerns about community safety It also analyzes the relationship between social problems such as poverty and crime and penal policy during the twenty year period of penal expansion The book concludes that the growth in corrections was not caused by crime nor has it reduced crime and that proposals for expanding incarceration cannot be justified Auckland University Law Review ,1996 Problems of Government , Probation and Parole Directory ,1985 Smart Sentencing James Michael Byrne, James M. Byrne, Arthur J. Lurigio, Joan Petersilia, 1992-08-20 In search of remedies to the growing problem of

correctional crowding federal state and local policy makers have begun to experiment with a range of new intermediate sanctions These sanctions have taken a variety of forms intensive probation supervision home confinement boot camps day fines residential community corrections day reporting centers and community service programs In Smart Sentencing a distinguished panel of experts offers an in depth assessment of the design development and impact of each of these intermediate sanctions while also discussing the most controversial issues surrounding the use of alternative punishments e g the purpose of sanctions effectiveness issues gender bias overrepresentation of minorities The contributors also look at the future of intermediate sanctions and consider the many questions posed by criminal justice professionals and students regarding their continued development New concepts in sentencing are explored including home supervision electronic monitoring boot camps day fines community service programs residential community corrections and day reporting centers The Women s Advocate Smart Sentencing is a rich critical collection evaluating various intermediate sanctions such as community service drug treatment programs and electronic monitoring Twenty articles by leading U S researchers ably chronicle progress made and not made by the movement for intermediate sanctions Update Smart Sentencing is a rich and stimulating collection of reports from the field Contributors to this volume are astute observers of criminal justice operations and they rarely hesitate to describe problems when they see them Smart Sentencing is highly recommended and well worth reading While this volume strongly supports the intermediate sanction movement it goes well beyond rhetoric by providing professional assessments of what works and what doesn t work It also outlines a direction for future studies of intermediate sanctions Federal Probation A major contribution to the study of this resurgent field Smart Sentencing includes previously unpublished works from some renowned authorities on intermediate sanctions The book is aimed at academics and correctional administrators who desire a better understanding of intermediate sanctions In concert with that aim the contributors keep the use of complex inferential statistics to a minimum instead relying on descriptive methods of measuring diversion and cost savings Just as important almost all of the articles lay conceptual and theoretical foundations for a particular sanction something frequently neglected by in house correctional researchers and administrators The Criminologist This book provides a fairly detailed account of the experience of intermediate sanctions in America Overall this is a useful book and the general quality of the contributions is high The Magistrate Encyclopedia of Social Work ,1995
NIJ Reports ,1983 American Sociological Review ,1936 Includes sections Book reviews and Periodical literature
Books for College Libraries: Social sciences Association of College and Research Libraries,1988 This third edition lists 50 000 titles that form the foundation of an undergraduate library s collection This volume covers the social sciences
Journal of Crime & Justice ,2004 Whitaker's Cumulative Book List ,1984 Choice ,1982 Corrections in Canada Colin Harford Goff,1999 British Books in Print ,1985 Books in Print ,1991
