Conversion Survey ,2000 Military Geographies Rachel Woodward, 2011-07-15 Military Geographies is about how local space place environment and landscape are shaped by military presence and about how wider geographies are touched by militarism A book about how local space place environment and landscape are shaped by military presence and about how wider geographies are touched by militarism Sets a new agenda for the study of military geography with its critical analysis of the ways in which military control over space is legitimized Explores the ways in which militarism and military activities control development the use of space and our understanding of place Focuses on military lands establishments and personnel in contemporary peacetime settings Uses examples from Europe North America and Australasia Draws on original research into the mechanisms by which the British government manages the defence estate Illustrated with maps plans and other figures Dimensions of Peace and Security Gustaaf Geeraerts, Natalie Pauwels, Éric Remacle, 2006 The terrorist attacks of September 11th 2001 on the United States provoked a significant shift in thinking about peace and security and much has since been written about new security threats and challenges This collection of essays revisits some of the more traditional concepts of peace and security that remain valid and pertinent today despite having ceded much of the limelight to the major security preoccupations of the current era international terrorism weapons of mass destruction rogue states and related phenomena The book covers numerous salient topics from arms production monitoring and control to disarmament and conversion through to peacekeeping and conflict prevention The contributions differ in scope form and analysis ranging from historical and philosophical to contemporary and political perspectives and approaches to peace and security Nato and the Transatlantic Alliance in the Twenty-First Century G. Williams, B. Jones, 2001-03-13 This book examines the nature of international politics in the twentieth century It encapsulates those essential and enduring features likely to be present in the twenty first century One important feature is the friction generated by nation states attempting to coexist in a still largely unequal and hierarchical system of states The possible impact of three powerful simultaneous and intersecting revolutions on international relations and the future of NATO is assessed in relation to the twenty first century Conversion in South Africa in the 1990s Peter G. Batchelor, Jacklyn Cock, Penny Mckenzie, 2000

Demilitarisation and Peace-Building in Southern Africa Peter Batchelor, 2018-12-17 First published in 2004 this work is based on a collaborative research project this trilogy considers the dynamics of demilitarisation and peace building in southern Africa in the aftermath of major violent conflicts The overall aim of the research is to support and facilitate the achievement of sustainable peace and human development in southern Africa by analysing demilitarisation and peace building processes in the region and identifying policy options and interventions for peace building The central focus of the research is the extent to which demilitarisation following the termination of wars has contributed to broad processes of peace building in the affected region Has the military in southern Africa downsized and refocused towards new roles Has there been a peace dividend allowing more investment in economic and human development thereby dealing with some of the root causes of conflict Volume I provides a conceptual framework for the analysis of demilitarisation and peace building processes applicable particularly in the southern Africa context This volume argues that a broad concept of peace building has to take into account economic political social and cultural factors at the local national and regional level

International Restructuring and Conversion of the Arms Industries and the Military Sector Wolfram Elsner, 2001 The international 2001 Bremen conference was a comprehensive convention of all the relevant researchers trade unions and companies other regional and national agents and their European networks This volume represents settled experiences sector analyses spatial and company case studies and perspectives for proactive change management in the coming decade
