Conversions The Christian Experience:

Famous Conversions Hugh Thomson Kerr, John M. Mulder, 1994 A collection of fifty first person conversion accounts spanning Christian history from the Apostle Paul to St Augustine to Malcolm Muggeridge and Charles Colson The selections intended to be representative rather than exhaustive are each prefaced with brief comment by the editors Conversions: the Christian experience, 1983 Famous Conversions Hugh Thomson Kerr, John M. Mulder, 1996 An Account of the Conversion and Christian Experience of Francis Lamb Francis Lamb, 1848 A History of Christian Conversion David W. Kling, 2020 In this first in depth and wide ranging history of Christian conversion David Kling examines the dynamic of turning to the Christian faith by individuals families and people groups Global in reach and engaging recent methods and theories in conversion studies the narrative progresses from early Christian beginnings in the Roman world to Christianity s expansion into Europe the Americas China India and Africa Although conversion is often associated with a particular strand of modern Christianity evangelical and a particular type of experience sudden overwhelming when examined over two millennia it emerges as a phenomenon far more complex than any one dimensional profile would suggest The Conversion Experience Donald L. Gelpi, 1998 Using reflections exercises and suggestions for prayer and group sharing this practical book explores five forms of conversion the seven dynamics that structure the process and the significance for conversion of sacramental worship Conversion and Religious Experience Oscar S. Kriebel, 1907 Personal Salvation Edward Norton Cantwell, 1903 Conversion and Religious Experience Oscar S. Kriebel, 1907 The Christian Experience Daniel Worcester Faunce, 1881 The Christian Conversion Experience Denise Miller, 1989 Abstract The purpose of this qualitative research study was to examine and describe the life experience of Christian men and women following their commitment to Christianity as a religious belief system As a subjective study the author s own experience was explored along with the experiences of eight co researchers A thorough literature search revealed that several related studies have been conducted on various aspects of the Christian experience but no study focused on this particular dimension An overview of these studies is included within the body of this thesis The co researchers ranged in ages from 27 78 and were from various denominational backgrounds All participated in a two hour tape recorded interview utilizing focus questions in guiding the description of their experience Several common themes emerged from their detailed descriptions Verbatim selections from the interviews are included in the thesis to substantiate these themes The themes were categorized into pre conversion conversion and post conversion life experiences Each theme is explored in great detail revealing the nature of the experience for each person A sense of a lack of direction purpose and meaning in life was the prevailing theme in the pre conversion phase This was followed by a calling out to God for help often out of severe desperation The conversion experience encompassed this call for help and included an immediate sense of relief The co researchers articulated numerous on going changes that occurred from that point forward including a new found sense of meaning purpose and direction in their lives a sense of a personal relationship with God that was accompanied by an intense desire to learn more about Him via church and Bible study and the freedom from various disturbing feelings and behavior patterns such as bitterness guilt loneliness anxiety fear of death and alcohol and substance abuse All of the co researchers agreed that the conversion process is an on going one affecting all of their relationships and all aspects of their lives The findings of this study could be helpful within the realms of psychology theology or sociology or as a contribution to the reader s own spiritual quest The Three Conversions of the Christian Life Kevin E. Martin,Robert Michael Lewis,2021-12-02 Christianity is a religion of conversion but what is conversion This book explores the fullness of the Christian life and the threefold turnings that it demands of Jesus followers Starting with St Paul while looking in detail at his Damascus Road experience and examining the remarkable lives of exemplary Christians the authors unfold dynamics of conversion and call all followers to grow deeper in their discipleship

The Evidence of Christian Experience Lewis French Stearns,1890 Religious Conversion Professor Ira Katznelson,Professor Miri Rubin,2014-09-28 Religious conversion a shift in membership from one community of faith to another can take diverse forms in radically different circumstances As the essays in this volume demonstrate conversion can be protracted or sudden voluntary or coerced small scale or large It may be the result of active missionary efforts instrumental decisions or intellectual or spiritual attraction to a different doctrine and practices In order to investigate these multiple meanings and how they may differ across time and space this collection ranges far and wide across medieval and early modern Europe and beyond From early Christian pilgrims to fifteenth century Ethiopia from the Islamisation of the eastern Mediterranean to Reformation Germany the volume highlights salient features and key concepts that define religious conversion particular the Jewish Muslim and Christian experiences By probing similarities and variations continuities and fissures the volume also extends the range of conversion to focus on matters less commonly examined such as competition for the meaning of sacred space changes to bodies patterns of gender and the ways conversion has been understood and narrated by actors and observers In so doing it promotes a layered approach that deepens inquiry by identifying and suggesting constellations of elements that both compose particular instances of conversion and help make systematic comparisons possible by indicating how to ask comparable questions of often vastly different situations Conversions :

the Christian experience Hugh T. ; Mulder Kerr (John M.),1983 Christian Conversion Walter E. Conn,2006-07-01 Walter Conn has provided us with something we have needed for a long time a scholarly study of Christian conversion that draws synthetically from present day psychology philosophy and theology and uses these insights to analyze actual Christian religious experience And in doing that Conn has produced what is probably the best treatment to date of foundational moral theology To follow Conn through the pages of this volume is to become acquainted with most of today s important reflection on human moral and personal development But one emerges with much more than relevant information about what is being said Conn s own view of conversion goes beyond the thinkers from whom he draws and provides a basic challenge to and enrichment of our understanding of faith and morality Bernard Cooke Holy Cross College Walter E Conn is Professor of Theology and Religious Studies at Villanova University He is also the editor of Horizons journal of the College Theology Society Turning to God David F. Wells, 2012-04-12 Does a person have to convert to be a Christian Or can one merely follow Jesus by studying Scripture Does the Bible ever say that conversion is necessary Or is it a development of the church Turning to God explores these fundamental questions about regeneration and conversion distinguishing Christianity from every other faith as one in which conversion is unique supernatural and necessary for salvation In it you will find a clear thoughtful balanced discussion of the Christian conversion experience including its history controversy and scriptural basis Anyone who has marveled at the mystery of how and why we turn to God along with those skeptical of religious conversion will find themselves challenged and encouraged by this thorough treatment of one of the fundamentals of the Christian faith

Conversion Alfred Clair Underwood, 1925 Representation of regeneration Conversion and adolescence Experiences preceding conversion Types of conversion The immediate accompaniments of conversion The psychological mechanism of conversion Conversion during revivals The fruits of conversion The individual and the social Conversion in its comparative aspects Christian Conversion Arthur Thomas Guttery, 1920 The Christian Experience James J. Mulligan, 1973
