Developing And Delivering Adult Degree Programs New Directions For Adult And Continuing Education:

Developing and Delivering Adult Degree Programs James P. Pappas, Jerry Jerman, 2014-02-25 This issue explores the growing field of adult degree programs and considers the theoretical underpinnings of such programs and hands on issues as curriculum faculty marketing technology financing and accreditation all with a goal of informing and equipping both scholars and practitioners More and more adults who have been out of school for many years have turned to colleges and universities to complete undergraduate and graduate degrees that will make them competitive in the workforce fulfill a professional requirement or enrich them intellectually Higher education institutions and many private organizations have responded to this demand by creating innovative degree programs aimed specifically at mature learners students who want to self design their educational programs and do not hesitate to change institutions if they believe their needs are not being met This explosive growth in adult degree programs is largely the result of distance education technologies and the Internet Other significant factors include the potential such programs have for providing additional revenue streams for institutions the fierce competition from the private sector and other higher education institutions and the rising interest in interdisciplinary programs This is the 103rd volume of the Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education, 2006 Developing and Sustaining Adult Learners Carrie J. Boden, Kathleen P. King, 2013-10-01 Developing and Sustaining Adult Learners is the second volume in a series of scholarly publications associated with the annual Adult Higher Education Alliance AHEA The Alliance conference The title of this volume derived from the theme of the 2012 conference co sponsored by American Association of Adult and Continuing Education AAACE in Las Vegas NV encompasses significant issues and questions at the forefront of the field of adult education At the conference scholars practitioners and adult educators gave presentations and received feedback on some of the most significant and timely issues in their praxis The Alliance which values collaboration transformative dialogue and collegiality among professionals considers this volume a continuation of those conversations as the presentations were expanded into chapters We are glad that you are joining the conversation This volume confirms not only that adult learning higher education and both fields of research have many contexts but also that there is so much more to learn about different perspectives and opportunities for research and practice Opportunities for symbiotic relationship abound We hope that Developing and Sustaining Adult Learners will be a book that you pull off your bookshelf or open in your e reader often We know that as we engage in program and course planning design and teaching this book will provide needed refreshment and new vision When research ideas seem too similar this volume will also provide many seeds for new opportunities Understanding and Supporting Adult Learners Frederic Jacobs, Stephen P. Hundley, 2010-07-20 Understanding and Supporting Adult Learners offers faculty and administrators a hands on guide to the myriad issues adult learners face in their enrollment and participation in higher education This comprehensive resource is filled with the analytical and practical skills that can help faculty make sound decisions relative to adult learners The book also includes techniques and frameworks for assessing implementing and evaluating practices within the institution at the classroom department school and campus levels to nurture and support responsiveness to adult learners Praise for Understanding and Supporting Adult Learners This timely book provides a clear road map for institutions to attract retain and graduate adult learners It will provoke discussions among faculty and administrators on the best ways to serve and assess this important demographic John V Moore III associate director of institutional research Temple University A must read for everyone serving adults in higher education The book s wonderfully insightful and provocative cases bring to life the real dilemmas facing adult learners and the institutions that support them It provides an enlightened analysis of the issues and an effective framework for creating and improving programs that ensure the success of adult learners in higher education Tai Arnold assistant vice president for academic programs SUNY Empire State College This book is a must read for community college faculty and administrators Community college adult learners span several generations and even decades and bring different levels of learning skills and student support services needs This is an excellent practical guide to addressing the varied needs and issues of the twenty first century adult learner Christine Chairsell vice president Portland Community College

Continuing Education in Colleges and Universities: Challenges and Opportunities Ronald White, Frank

DiSilvestro, 2013-12-31 These are times of great opportunity and challenge for continuing education CE programs in colleges and universities While lifelong learning remains central to CE s mission means of promoting and delivering adult education programs through distance and online learning are undergoing tremendous technological transformation Within institutions CE units are increasingly collaborating with academic departments In addition demographic shifts have resulted in new audiences and types of programs offered both credit and noncredit School are pressured to increase their participation in economic development All these changes carry administrative considerations This volume suggests perspective and solutions for the challenges that must be successfully confronted by today s CE programs and the professionals who develop them This is the 140th volume of this Jossey Bass series Noted for its depth of coverage it explores issues of common interest to instructors administrators counselors and policymakers in a broad range of adult and continuing education settings such as colleges and universities extension programs businesses libraries and museums

Reconceptualizing Faculty

Development in Service-Learning/Community Engagement Becca Berkey, Emily Eddins Rountree, Patrick M. Green, Cara Meixner, 2023-07-03 The role of educational developer in the realm of service learning and community engagement S LCE is multidimensional Given the potentially transformational nature for both faculty and students of the experiences and courses in whose design they may be directly or indirectly involved as well as their responsibility to the communities served by these initiatives they have to be particularly attentive to issues of identity values and roles As both practitioners and facilitators they are often positioned as third space professionals This edited volume provides educational developers and community engagement professionals an analysis of approaches to faculty development around service learning and community engagement Using an openly self reflective approach the contributors to this volume offer an array of examples and models as well as realistic strategies to empower readers to evolve their faculty development efforts in service learning and community engagement on their respective campuses It is also a call for recognition that the practice of S LCE needs to be institutionalized and improved The book further addresses the field s potential contributions to scholarship such as the scholarship of teaching and learning SoTL publicly engaged scholarship and collaborative inquiry among others The case studies provide an outline of program models and promising practices including an authentic analysis of the institutional context within which they operate the positionality of the practitioner scholars overseeing them the resources required and the evidence related to both successes and challenges of these approaches The contributed chapters are organized under four themes the landscape of faculty development and community engagement models of faculty development in S LCE challenges and opportunities in pedagogy and partnerships and engendering change in educational development

Developing and Delivering Adult Degree Programs ,2004 Resources in Education ,1977 Possible Selves and Adult Learning: Perspectives and Potential Marsha Rossiter,2007-07-27 This issue introduces practitioners scholars and students to the construct of possible selves and its potential applications in the field of adult education The possible selves construct offers a useful and largely unexplored framework for understanding adult learning as the medium through which change growth and goal achievement occur The chapters in this volume outline in practical terms the research based applications of possible selves that have relevance fo adult educators Introduced by Hazel Markus and Paula Nurius in 1986 possible selves refer to the future oriented components of an individual s self concept they are imagined future selves including the selves that are ideal and hoped for In the past twenty years a substantial body of research has explored the connections between possible selves and life span development race and gender career development and academic achievement As a result a variety of possible selves approaches has been applied in fields of practice corresponding to adult education although the construct remains relative unknown in adult education itself This is the 114th issue of the Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education Embracing and Enhancing the Margins of Adult Education ,2004 HIV/AIDS Education for Adults John P. Egan,2005 Contributors from the United States Canada and Australia working in university based and community based environments and for divergent communities present specific experiences in the fight against HIV AIDS They share stories of shifting paradigms and challenging norms and of seeking and finding innovation Topics examined include the struggle for meaning and power in HIV AIDS education HIV prevention workers and injection drug users community based research grassroots response to HIV AIDS in Nova Scotia sex workers and HIV AIDS education and the Tuskegee Syphilis Study and legacy recruitment for experimental vaccines By examining HIV AIDS through an adult education lens we gain insights into how communities and governments can respond quickly and effectively to emergent health issues and other issues linked to marginalization This is the 105th issue of the quarterly report series New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education The College Admissions Officer's Guide Barbara Lauren,2008 Current Index to Journals in Education ,1992 The Learning Connection ,1982
