Developing World 2001 :

The Developing World and the Environment Rajendra Ramlogan, 2004-09-28 The seeds of the demise of many early civilizations Mesopotamian Greek Roman and Mayan found fertile ground in environmental conflicts The roots of environmental crises are also embedded in the industrial revolution the advent of the age of science and technology urbanization changes in agriculture the population explosion and the rise in consumerism It is no surprise that even today the global village is highly concerned with the issue of environmentalism In this study author Rajendra Ramlogan calls for a re examination of the legal and institutional framework for protection of the global environment within the context of the special needs of the developing world This unique third world perspective on international environmental law is suitable for college level courses

Local Economic Development In The Developing World Etienne Louis Nel, Christian Myles Rogerson, Over the last two decades the concept and practice of Local Economic Development LED has gained widespread acceptance around the world as a locally based response to the challenges posed by globalization devolution local level opportunities and economic crises Support for local economic development is now firmly on the agenda of many national governments and key international agencies This volume examines the debates about Local Economic Development and examines some of the unfolding experiences of LED in the developing world The focus is upon the region of southern Africa and more especially upon post apartheid South Africa LED emerged in South Africa as one of the more significant post apartheid development options being pursued by empowered localities with the overt encouragement of national government Elsewhere in the developing world much interest surrounds the experience of LED in post apartheid South Africa which is seen as a laboratory for experimentation innovation and learning The seventeen chapters in this book examine the range of LED interventions that have been the basis for experimentation in the last decade including both pro market as well as pro poor interventions Key themes include debates about the most appropriate policy directions for LED its contribution towards sustainable development the role of social capital cluster support public procurement eco development good governance and tourism led LED The book also contains a series of detailed case studies on the implementation of LED in South Africa and the wider region of southern Africa including analyses of LED undertaken at a variety of scales from the provincial metropolitan and small town level Until now most research on local economic development has focused on the developed world This volume breaks new ground in applying LED policy and practices to problems specific to the developing world It will be of interest to scholars of development studies urban and regional planning human geography and urban studies This compelling and comprehensive book provides a look at the innovative including pro poor local economic development strategies being used in South Africa The contributors to Local Economic Development in the Changing World The Experience of Southern Africa are among the very best scholars in the field Gary Gaile University of Colorado Etienne Nel and Christian Rogerson have produced an excellent book on local economic development in South Africa The chapters in this timely volume contain many valuable lessons for both the developing and the developed world Of particular importance is the policy focus of Nel and Rogerson on investing in and empowering low income workers entrepreneurs families and neighborhoods Because of the special emphasis on inclusive economic development strategies this book is a very useful guide to what the Prague Institute calls Treating People and Communities as Assets Dr Marc A Weiss Chairman and CEO Prague Institute for Global Urban Development Etienne Nel is associate professor in the Department of Geography of Rhodes University Grahamstown South Africa Christian M Rogerson is professor of human geography School of Geography Archaeology and Environmental Studies University of Witwatersrand Johannesburg

Food Security and Environmental Quality in the Developing World Rattan Lal, David O. Hansen, Norman Uphoff, 2016-04-19 Can developing countries meet the food requirements of their growing populations without jeopardizing a natural resource base that is already under great stress Can increases in food production achieved in the past two decades be sustained in the next two decades Can developing countries achieve freedom from hunger and malnutrition

Development Economics and Social Justice John Thoburn, 2017-11-28 Professor Ian Livingstone is one of a small group of British development economists who have achieved international renown and recognition The objective of this book is to pay tribute to his life's work particularly those aspects which related to key but challenging development issues These issues include at a broad level the understanding of the economic forces determining the development of low income economies more detailed micro work on agricultural development irrigation in particular decentralisation and local government finance small scale enterprises and large scale manufacturing development Themes running through his work relate to his overriding concern for rigour and for socio economic justice Ian Livingstone consistently used the traditional tools of economic analysis as a means to increase understanding of development issues in a way which was itself just as radical as the contributions of political scientists and sociologists This volume has been produced with similar aims

Integrated Land and Water Management for Food and Environmental Security, 2003

Rethinking Development Geographies Marcus Power, 2004-08-02 Development as a concept is notoriously imprecise vague and presumptuous Struggles over the meaning of this fiercely contested term have had profound implications on the destinies of people and places across the globe Rethinking Development Geographies offers a stimulating and critical introduction to the study of geography and development In doing so it sets out to explore the spatiality of development thinking and practices The book highlights the geopolitical nature of development and its origins in Empire and the Cold War It also reflects critically on the historical engagement of geographers with the Tropics the Third World and the South The dominant economic and political philosophies that shape the policies and perspectives of major institutions are discussed The interconnections between globalization and development are highlighted through an examination of local national and transnational resistance to various forms of development The text provides an accessible introduction to the complex and confusing world of contemporary global development Informative diagrams cartoons and case studies are used throughout While exploring global geographies of economic and political change Rethinking Development Geographies is also grounded in a concern with people and places the view from below the views of women and the view from the South Vyavahar Vigyanon Main Anusandhan Ke Prayogatmak Aakalp World Bank,2001 This is the 5th edition of World development Indicators in its current format It captures the most important issues for developing countries health education welfare sustainable use of natural resources and the reversal of environmental loss economic growth and the management of the economy and integration with the world economy It shows that although there has been progress in reducing extreme poverty none of the international development goals on health and education is likely to be met The current level of aid at some 0.24% of gross national income is far short of the target of 0.7% many countries promised

Developing Nations Berna Miller,James D. Torr,2003 Most of the nations of the world lack the economic infrastructure and strong stable governments found in the United States and other industrialized nations The critical issues facing developing nations are explored in the following chapters What Are the Problems Facing Developing Nations How Does Globalization Affect Developing Nations What Role Should Industrialized Nations Play in the Developing World What Are the Prospects for Democracy in Developing Nations Can the Poor Influence Policy? Participatory Poverty Assessments in the Developing World Caroline M. Robb,2002-01-15 There has been a dramatic shift in the policy debate regarding poverty reduction strategies for developing countries the focus has moved from why the poor should be included in policy formulation to an explanation of the ways in which this can be achieved The second edition of this book draws on recent case studies of the use of Participatory Poverty Assessments PPAs in order to highlight emerging best practice of the significant role the poor can play in analysing poverty developing interventions for poverty reduction and evaluating the effect of projects and policies This method was developed by the World Bank in partnerships with NGOs governments and academic institutions and has been implemented in over 60 countries worldwide during the last decade Development Outreach ,2002

The Other World Joseph Weatherby,2003 This accessible text takes an interdisciplinary approach and explores the dimensions of contemporary global issues in the non Western world The Other World Fifth Edition is designed to give students an overview of contemporary issues in the developing world Using an engaging and informative interdisciplinary approach it provides students with fundamental information on current problems common to developing areas The text presents regional coverage of Latin America Africa Asia and the Middle East The authors describe the similarities and differences among nations within these regions and trace events and issues in selected countries in each region
