Features of the Third Edition Workbook format offers the instructor and the student options for how to use the text in a classroom or independently in an internship or residency. The order of the programming process, chapter content, order summaries, and format of exercises has been retained to ease transition for instructors using previous editions of the text. The program story section has been retained along with author's notes on what is currently happening with these programs and other related topic areas. New content has been added in program sustainability, the assessment and building of community assets, and consensus organizing in communities. More developed content is offered about the structure and function of nonprofit organizations as well as the role and function of the social entrepreneur who does programming for these organizations. Included with the text are online supplemental materials for faculty use in the classroom. Developing Occupation Centered Programs With the Community Third Edition is an excellent introductory tool and is a valuable resource for occupational therapy students at all levels as well as experienced practitioners in a clinical setting.

Fazio, 2026-04-09 The new edition of this fantastic book provides a step by step guide to designing and implementing an occupation centered program in a community setting. The book is divided into six sections. Part 1 introduces the ideas of community and occupation, offering the foundations to understanding the purpose of community based programs and what they can potentially achieve. Part 2 looks at the design phase, highlighting issues such as a community's profile and its existing assets. Before Part 3 focusses on practical issues around implementation, from funding and grantsmanship to staffing and promotion. Part 4 examines the evaluation process, while Parts 5 and 6 showcase examples of successful programs in different communities as well as new areas where community programs could make an impact. The book is informed by an overarching concern for sustaining positive change with attention to the development and management of both profit and nonprofit organizations.
