Development Crisis:

The Pedagogy of Economic, Political and Social Crises Bob Jessop, Karim Knio, 2018-11-09 Crises have been studied in many disciplines and from diverse perspectives for at least 150 years Yet recent decades have seen a marked increase in the crisis literature reflecting growing awareness of crisis phenomena from the 1970s onwards Responding to this mainstream literature this edited collection makes six key innovations First it distinguishes between crises as event and crises as process as well as crises as accidental events or as the result of system generated processes Second it distinguishes crises that can be managed through established crisis management routines from crises of crisis management Third it focuses on the symptomatology of crisis i e the challenge of moving crisis symptoms to understanding underlying causes as a basis for decisive action Fourth it goes beyond the cliché that crises are both threat and opportunity by distinguishing valid accounts of the origins and present nature of a crisis from more speculative accounts of what potentially exists Fifth it explores how crises can disorient conventional wisdom thus provoking efforts to interpret and learn about crises and draw lessons after a crisis has ended Finally the sixth element is the move away from the conventional focus on executive authorities and disaster management agencies instead turning attention towards how other social forces construe crises and attempt to learn from them Offering important insights into the pedagogy of crisis throughout this collection will offer excellent reading to both researchers and postgraduate students

Langoni, 1988 The Global Development Crisis Benjamin Selwyn, 2014-03-10 The central paradox of the contemporary world is the simultaneous presence of wealth on an unprecedented scale and mass poverty Liberal theory explains the relationship between capitalism and poverty as one based around the dichotomy of inclusion into capitalism vs exclusion from capitalism Within this discourse the global capitalist system is portrayed as a sphere of economic dynamism and as a source of developmental opportunities for less developed countries and their populations Development policy should therefore seek to integrate the poor into the global capitalist system The Global Development Crisis challenges this way of thinking Through an interrogation of some of the most important political economists of the last two centuries Friedrich List Karl Marx Leon Trotsky Joseph Schumpeter Alexander Gerschenkron Karl Polanyi and Amarta Sen Selwyn argues that class relations are the central cause of poverty and inequality within and between countries In contrast to much development thinking which portrays the poor as reliant upon benign assistance this book advocates the concept of labour centred development Here the poor are the global labouring classes and their own collective actions and struggles constitute the basis of an alternative form of non elitist bottom up human development A History of Modern Banks of Issue Charles Arthur Conant,1896
