Determinants Of The Death Penalty A Comparative Study Of The World:

Determinants of the Death Penalty Carsten Anckar, 2004-08-02 Determinants of the Death Penalty seeks to explain the phenomenon of capital punishment without recourse to value judgements by identifying those characteristics common to countries that use the death penalty and those that mark countries which do not. This global study uses statistical analysis to relate the popularity of the death penalty to physical cultural social economical institutional actor oriented and historical factors. Separate studies are conducted for democracies and non democracies and within four regional contexts. The book also contains an in depth investigation into determinants of the death penalty in the USA. The Politics of the Death Penalty in Countries in Transition Madoka Futamura, Nadia Bernaz, 2013-08-15 The increase in the number of countries that have abolished the death penalty since the end of the Second World War shows a steady trend towards worldwide abolition of capital punishment. This book focuses on the political and legal issues raised by the death penalty in countries in transition understood as countries that have transitioned or are transitioning from conflict to peace or from authoritarianism to democracy. In such countries the politics that surround retaining or abolishing the death penalty are embedded in complex state building processes. In this context Madoka Futamura and Nadia Bernaz bring together the work of leading researchers of international law human rights transitional justice and international politics in order to explore the social political and legal factors that shape decisions on the death penalty whether this leads to its abolition reinstatement or perpetuation. Covering a diverse range of transitional processes in Asia Africa Latin America Europe and the Middle East The Politics of the Death Penalty in Countries in Transition offers a broad evaluation of countries whose death penalty policies have rarely been studied. The book would be useful to human rights researchers and international lawyers in demonstrating how transition and transformation provide the catalyst for several of interrelated developments of which one is the reduction and elimination of capital punishment. Handbook of Research Methods and Applications in Comparative Policy Analysis B. Guy Peters, Guillaume Fontaine, 2020-04-24 Public policy research has become increasingly comparative over the past several decades but the methodological issues involved in this research have not been discussed adequately. This Handbook provides a discussion of the fundamental methodological issues in comparative policy research as well as descriptions and analyses of major techniques used for that research. The techniques discussed are both quantitative and qualitative and all are embedded in the broader discussion of comparative research design. The Death Penalty in Contemporary China S. Trevaskes, 2012-07-16 China's infamous death penalty record is the product of firm Party state control and policy setting. Though during the 1980s and 1990s the Party's emphasis was on kill many in the 2000s the direction of policy began to move toward kill fewer. This book details the policies institutions and story behind the reform of the death penalty. The Elgar Companion to Capital Punishment and Society Benjamin Fleury-Steiner, Austin D. Sarat, 2024-09-06 The Elgar Companion to Capital Punishment and Society presents a multidisciplinary overview of capital punishment's influences.

processes and outcomes across society A global range of philosophers social scientists legal experts political theorists and historians critically analyse the trajectory of the death penalty in both retentionist and abolitionist countries underscoring how state killing remains a crucial issue worldwide Promoting Democracy and Human Rights in Russia Sinikukka Saari,2009-12-04 This book discusses how various international organisations including the European Union successfully promoted in Russia common European norms of human rights and democracy with Russia co operating fully in the process but how more recently Russia has begun to challenge these norms moving towards semi authoritarianism The Judicial Process Christopher P. Banks,David M. O'Brien,2015-02-19 The Judicial Process Law Courts and Judicial Politics is an all new concise yet comprehensive core text that introduces students to the nature and significance of the judicial process in the United States and across the globe It is social scientific in its approach situating the role of the courts and their impact on public policy within a strong foundation in legal theory or political jurisprudence as well as legal scholarship Authors Christopher P Banks and David M O'Brien do not shy away from the politics of the judicial process and offer unique insight into cutting edge and highly relevant issues In its distinctive boxes Contemporary Controversies over Courts and In Comparative Perspective the text examines topics such as the dispute pyramid the law and morality of same sex marriages the hardball politics of judicial selection plea bargaining trends the right to counsel and pay as you go justice judicial decisions limiting the availability of class actions constitutional courts in Europe the judicial role in creating major social change and the role lawyers juries and alternative dispute resolution techniques play in the U S and throughout the world Photos cartoons charts and graphs are used throughout the text to facilitate student learning and highlight key aspects of the judicial process Dialogues on the Ethics of Capital Punishment Dale Jacquette,2009 Resource added for the Psychology includes Sociology 108091 courses The Making of the European Union Sten Berglund,2006 Argues that the process of European integration has drifted into serious crisis French and Dutch voters blatantly rejected the Treaty establishing a Constitution for Europe in the summer of 2005 thus freezing the constitutional process for at least a year Forthcoming Books Rose Army,2004 American Book Publishing Record ,2003 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2005 Sociological Abstracts Leo P. Chall,2003 CSA Sociological Abstracts abstracts and indexes the international literature in sociology and related disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences The database provides abstracts of journal articles and citations to book reviews drawn from over 1 800 serials publications and also provides abstracts of books book chapters dissertations and conference papers The Death Penalty Roger Hood,Carolyn Hoyle,2008 The 4th edition edition of this classic study has been thoroughly revised to provide up to date information on the scope and practice of capital punishment and the movement backed by international organizations and human rights treaties to abolish the death penalty worldwide As in previous editions it draws on Roger Hood's experience as consultant to the United Nations for the Secretary General's five yearly surveys of capital punishment as well as the latest information from non governmental organizations and the academic literature Not only have more countries such as the Phillipines abolished capital punishment but amongst those that retain the death penalty fewer have been carrying out executions Legal challenges to the mandatory imposition of capital punishment have been successful as has the movement to abolish the death penalty for those who commit a capital crime when under the age of 18 Of particular interest is the situation in China where all death sentences are to be reviewed by the People s Supreme Court Support for capital punishment is waning in the USA where concern is mounting as evidence of conviction of the innocent grows and where there have been renewed challenges to the constitutionality of the death penalty Despite the many advances towards world wide abolition this book reveals many human rights abuses where the death penalty still exists These include the wide range of crimes still subject to capital punishment in some countries the lack of protection from police abuse unfair trials lack of access to qualified defence counsel terrible conditions and excessive periods of time spent on death row and public and painful forms of execution Roger Hood and Carolyn Hoyle engage with the latest debates on the realities of capital punishment especially the claim that the death penalty is a uniquely effective deterrent to murder and other serious crimes This edition brings up to date the discussion of whether capital punishment can ever be administered equitably without discrimination or error and for the first time considers the alternatives to capital punishment especially the problems associated with a mandatory sentence to life imprisonment without the possibility of parole This edition also considers the role and influence of victims families and victim interest movements

Ghana's Adjustment Experience Eboe Hutchful,2002 How did the Ghanaian state after flirtation with structuralist theories and state intervention in the early 1960s followed by persistent resistance to fiscal correction and a long economic slide in the 1970s and early 1980s turn the economy around How did it manage to implement relatively rigorous neoliberal reforms in the mid 1980s and early 1990s And why after the economic miracle of the 1980s has reform increasingly run aground in recent years As Hutchful argues the Ghanaian adjustment strategy is deeply flawed unsustainable and subject to recurring revisions by international financial institutions such as the World Bank or the International Monetary Fund The Ghana case has focused many of the controversies of adjustment in Africa As such Hutchful s book marks a significant contribution to the literature on the role the state plays in impeding or encouraging economic and political development

The Death Penalty Alfred B. Heilbrun,2006-09-25 Capital punishment attracts strong and opposing moral positions execution by the state under any condition is wrong versus execution as just retribution for heinous killing In this book the author rejects these moral arguments as a basis for determining the social value of the death penalty and considers the issue scientifically by determining whether capital punishment deters willful killing Using evidence from legal history the impairment abolishment of the death penalty between 1968 and 1976 and the right of states to adopt or abolish the death penalty this book examines the statistical relationship between the death penalty and deterrence The investigation considers the murder rate during periods with and without the threat of capital punishment the role of state commitment to its own capital punishment system and fairness in administering the death penalty
