Developing Community Nursing Practice:

Developing Community Nursing Practice Spencer, Sue, Unsworth, John, Burke, W., 2001-08-01 Developing Community Nursing Practice is the first book to identify and debate the key issues around community nurses taking responsibility for developing the ways in which they deliver care Modern health care expects the individual practitioner to develop patient focused accessible and evidence based community services Despite the fact that the introduction and management of change is now a feature of professional education community nurses often feel ill prepared for introducing change in the real world perceiving a gap between theory and practice Developing Community Nursing Practice aims to close that gap This book interweaves thinking about change and innovation with wide ranging case study experience of contemporary community nursing It addresses often neglected issues in practice development such as evaluation and sustainability It gives guidance on how to identify what aspects of practice need to be developed on how to convince others of the need to change on how to work across organizational boundaries and on the likely hazards and how to tackle them This is a key resource for all student and practising community nurses across all specialisms providing information on how to initiate and implement change and on how ultimately to succeed in developing their own practice Developing Community Nursing Practice' 2006 Ed.2006 Edition ,
