Development And Adjustment Stabilization Structural Adjustment And Undp Policy:

Development and Adjustment Georges Chapelier,1989 The Fragility of the 'Failed State' Paradigm Neyire Akpinarli,2010 The absence of effective government one of the most important issues in current international law became prominent with the failed state concept at the beginning of the 1990s Public international law however lacked sufficient legal means to deal with the phenomenon Neither attempts at state reconstruction in countries such as Afghanistan and Somalia on the legal basis of Chapter VII of the UN Charter nor economic liberalisation have addressed fundamental social and economic problems This work investigates the weaknesses of the failed state paradigm as a long term solution for international peace and security arguing that the solution to the absence of effective government can be found only in an economic and social approach and a true universalisation of international law Total Quality Management in Higher Education Frank Chika Okechukwu,2011-02-25 If you want to improve quality save money and provide better services to your customers this book is for you Debt, Development, and Equity in Africa Karamo N. Inequality, Growth, and Poverty in an Era of Liberalization and Globalization Giovanni Andrea Cornia,2004-03-18
Within country income inequality has risen since the early 1980s in most of the OECD all transitional and many developing countries More recently inequality has risen also in India and nations affected by the Asian crisis Altogether over the last twenty years inequality worsened in 70 per cent of the 73 countries analysed in this volume with the Gini index rising by over five points in half of them In several cases the Gini index follows a U shaped pattern with the turn around point located between the late 1970s and early 1990s Where the shift towards liberalization and globalization was concluded the right arm of the U stabilized at the steady state level of inequality typical of the new policy regime as observed in the UK after 1990
Mainstream theory focusing on rises in wage differentials by skill caused by either North South trade migration or technological change poorly explains the recent rise in income inequality Likewise while the traditional causes of income polarization high land concentration unequal access to education the urban bias the curse of natural resources still account for much of cross country variation in income inequality they cannot explain its recent rise This volume suggests that the recent rise in income inequality was caused to a considerable extent by a policy driven worsening in factorial income distribution wage spread and spatial inequality In this regard the volume discusses the distributive impact of reforms in trade and financial liberalization taxation public expenditure safety nets and labour markets The volume thus represents one of the first attempts to analyse systematically the relation between policy changes inspired by liberalization and globalization and income inequality It suggests that capital account liberalization appears to have had on average the strongest disequalizing effect followed by domestic financial liberalization labour market deregulation and tax reform Trade liberalization had unclear effects while public expenditure reform often had positive effects
