Getting Skills Right Training Supply for the Green and AI Transitions Equipping Workers with the Right Skills OECD, 2024-12-11

Adult learning systems are being called upon to prepare workers for major labour market shifts including the green transition and the rise of artificial intelligence AI in the workplace While initial education is important upskilling and reskilling the existing workforce is essential to help individuals and businesses adapt and prepare for these transitions Policy makers face the challenge of ensuring training is both relevant and inclusive yet there is limited understanding of whether current training supply is sufficient to meet current and future skill needs Most research focuses on the demand for skills with little insight into the supply To fill this gap this report uses evidence from new OECD questionnaires and an analysis of training catalogues to evaluate whether current training supply aligns with the skills needed for the green and AI transitions It also provides insight into the accessibility and flexibility of training efforts to guide policy makers in their efforts to develop more effective inclusive training strategies

c't Working with AI c't-Redaktion, 2024-01-24

The special issue of c t KI Praxis provides tests and practical instructions for working with chatbots It explains why language models make mistakes and how they can be minimised This not only helps when you send questions and orders to one of the chatbots offered online If you do not want to or are not allowed to use the cloud services for data protection reasons for example you can also set up your own voice AI The c t editorial team explains where to find a suitable voice model how to host it locally and which service providers can host it The fact that generative AI is becoming increasingly productive harbours both opportunities and risks Suitable rules for the use of AI in schools training and at work help to exploit opportunities and minimise risks Generative AI and Education B. Mairéad Pratschke,2024-08-27 This volume addresses the gap in knowledge around generative AI and its applications in education It draws on the recent history of technological innovation and digital pedagogies locating generative AI in the contemporary discourse around education futures It argues that a new hybrid model of education is emerging requiring educational institutions to embed generative AI into course and programme design delivery and assessment It also proposes a shift from a focus on learning as output to learning as a process and explores what that shift might look like Grounded in educational theory it offers actionable pedagogy informed guidance on how to position AI as a collaborator in the construction of learning in a manner that is congruent with the values and aims of education It offers advice based on evidence based digital pedagogy including frameworks for effective teaching and learning with generative AI that enable educators and designers to put these ideas into practice The book also explores the wider context informing this shift connecting narratives from governments and industry leaders on the strategic importance of generative AI and lifelong learning learning agility and future skills that make the case for the integration of competency based assessment into mainstream education Finally going beyond pedagogy and practice it considers some of the broader issues including limitations and ethics and the implications of integrating generative AI into institutional planning and design and includes a sample roadmap for education leaders to start the process of integrating generative AI into their institutions This work approaches the topic of generative AI from the vantage point of educators by addressing themes and concerns that will resonate with professionals in the sector Career Services and Workforce Development Centers for Libraries Raymond Pun,Arpine Eloyan,Michael R.
