Handbook of Research on Teaching With Virtual Environments and AI Panconesi, Gianni,Guida, Maria,2021-02-19 The increasingly pervasive use of digital technology has catapulted society into an interconnected world where the natural boundaries between humankind and machine virtual and real individual and community have become less perceptible As individuals interact with different digital technologies they must build a digital intelligence which must be further cultivated as it is a key competency for the future of school and work Digital intelligence includes understanding the mutual strengths between people and technology as well as developing an awareness in the use of digital tools in order to avoid common threats such as cyberbullying addiction to video games techno stress and more As adolescents continue to engage with virtual reality and 3D virtual worlds where the online and offline overlap and coincide it is important to build this intelligence as well as utilize these technologies to promote successful learning The Handbook of Research on Teaching With Virtual Environments and AI explores the new personalized educational opportunities that are available with digital technology and virtual environments that can be used within education This book focuses on the use of these tools and how to navigate the use of new technologies such as AI and virtual environments for educational practices While highlighting topics such as virtual worlds game based learning intelligent tutoring augmented reality and more this book is ideal for teachers administrators technologists educational software developers IT specialists practitioners researchers academicians and students interested in how virtual environments and AI are being implemented in teaching practices

Prolog by Example Helder Coelho, Jose C. Cotta, 2012-12-06 Prolog has a declarative style A predicate definition includes both the input and output parameters and it allows a programmer to define a desired result without being concerned about the detailed instructions of how it is to be computed Such a declarative language offers a solution to the software crisis because it is shorter and more concise more powerful and understandable than present day languages Logic highlights novel aspects of programming namely using the same program to compute a relation and its inverse and supporting deductive retrieval of information This is a book about using Prolog Its real point is the examples introduced from Chapter 3 onwards and so a Prolog programmer does not need to read Chapters 1 and 2 which are oriented more to teachers and to students respectively The book is recommended for introductory and advanced university courses where students may need to remember the basics about logic programming and Prolog before starting doing Chapters 1 and 2 were also kept for the sake of unity of the whole material In Chapter 1 a teaching strategy is explained based on the key concepts of Prolog which are novel aspects of programming Prolog is enhanced as a computer programming language used for solving problems that involve objects and the relationships between objects This chapter provides a pedagogical tour of prescriptions for the organization of Prolog programs by pointing out the main drawbacks novices may encounter

An Almanac of Contemporary Characterisation of Judicial Restatements -Annotated with Treaties, Statutes, Rules and Commentaries 'lai Oshitokunbo Oshisanya, 2025-10-05 JuriScience is an approach through systematic study of the structure of legal phenomena in the law of nature from the perspective of philosophy of science to inform by exploration of formulas relations or order of phenomena as held in the world under stipulated set of conditions either universally or in a stated proportion of formalised categories in this jurisprudential version New Directions for University Museums Brad King, 2023-12-06 New Directions for University Museums is intended to help university museum leaders to help them plan strategically in the context of the issues and needs of the 2020s by examining trends affecting them and directions in response to those forces It will lay out a series of potential directions for university museums in the 21st century using examples from the field Although university museums are similar to other museums in their topic areas art natural history archaeology etc they are a unique category that requires special consideration Today university museums are grappling with new forces that are affecting their future University museums still have a dual responsibility to campus and community and they still try to mount exhibitions that are attractive to the communities in which they are embedded But they are rethinking the nature of service to town and gown in response to larger trends around accessibility It is no longer enough to try to attract visitors these museums are becoming much more active and outgoing in their outreach to the broader public They have unparalleled access to academic firepower but university museum research is no longer the sole province of academics intended for publication in scholarly journals In the 2020s research is being made much more relevant to existential problems of the world For example some are bridging the gap between academic research and teaching and the most pressing social issues of our time such as climate change the fight against racism and the interface between humans and technology University museum research is no longer cloistered and these institutions are finding ways to better leverage the new knowledge yielded by collections based research for both the university s and for public benefit Student engagement and education is still important but communication is no longer unidirectional from faculty and museum staff to students Now student input and co curation is now invited as learning becomes a two way street Moreover public science communication has become a much more important role for university museums These are in effect the new directions to which the title refers The main thesis of the book is therefore that university museums are becoming much more outward facing They are engaging with the public and with the world at large as never before In effect they matter more than ever This is the overarching new direction Within this general approach there are a number of questions that the book addresses What are the expectations of university museums in the 21st century from their key stakeholders university administrations faculties and students and the communities in which they are embedded How are those expectations changing and how are the museums evolving to meet them How are university museums navigating the minefields of political polarization cancel culture or heightened activism on campus and in society at large What is the nature of the relationship between the university s research and teaching mission and the university museum What trends can we identify and how can we help the university museum director navigate those trends The university donor relationship what can we learn from a study of donor expectations and the dynamics of university donor relationships in contemporary society How is the relationship between the university museum and the broader external community changing How is the university museum contributing to or detracting from the overall relationship between the university and the community What role is the university museum playing in terms of public communication of research especially public science communication This book is for all those who work in benefit from or are interested in university museums In particular it is hoped that the book will help university museum leaders who are embarking on strategic plans understand the common issues that are currently affecting their peers and provide some context and guidance to those leaders as they chart their own paths for the future and to advance larger goals For faculty it will show how the museum can help improve undergraduate teaching and graduate student training via highlights and illustrations of new ways in which faculty departments are cooperating and partnering with their campus museums and from a university administration point of view how the museum can help the university achieve its bigger strategic goals such as helping increase the percentage of successful faculty grant applications
