Dogs Best Friend Journey To The Roots Of An Ancient Partnership:

Dog's Best Friend Ursula Birr, Gerald Krakauer, Daniela Osiander, 1999-06-01 Explores the nature of the oldest human animal relationship in cultures around the world Over 100 stunning color photographs of rare breeds of dogs in their native environments Gives dog lovers a new appreciation of the important role dogs have always played in human lives No other animal has influenced human development in as long lasting or important ways as the dog He is the sanctuary of the tired model of faithfulness mirror image of attention peak of understanding and memory the motto and mascot of wise men historian Christian Franz Pollini wrote of the dog almost 300 years ago This statement still holds true today for the dog has long been man's partner in work and in play and the roots of their spiritual connection extend into the very foundation of our culture In exploring the origins of this oldest human animal relationship the authors traveled to Borneo Patagonia Greenland Namibia and Nepal where they found races of dogs that are largely unknown dogs of pure beauty and unique character such as the azawakhs basenjis kelpies and slough dogs that even today are an essential part of their human community Dog's Best Friend follows the close partnership between man and dog in indigenous cultures and reveals how without our canine friends the cultural history of humankind would be vastly different Whether as sled shepherd or hunting dogs whether in the desert jungle or eternal ice dogs have been the faithful companions of humans for thousands of years and this union has proved one of the most enduring and fruitful in history

Our Debt to the Dog Bryan D. Cummins, 2013-11-07 When Homo sapiens met Canis lupus lupus millennia ago the result was Canis lupus familiaris the domestic dog Since that fateful encounter the dog has become arguably humankind's greatest creation The domestic dog is the most widely distributed species other than ourselves in the world being found virtually wherever people live and is also the most diversified of species with literally hundreds of recognized breeds While we have shaped the dog it too has helped shape human history in innumerable ways Our Debt to the Dog is a critical historical and cross cultural examination through the use of case studies of this most improbable 15 000 year relationship and an exploration of how this relationship shaped the history of the world It is also very much an apology to the dog because over the course of the partnership horrific acts were perpetrated against it intentionally and otherwise Our Debt to the Dog enriches our understanding of the dog and extends our appreciation for the profound complexity of past and present human canine relationships and the dog's contributions to our lives and our world

The Healthy Pet Manual Deborah Straw, 2005-07-05 This revised and expanded edition of Why Is Cancer Killing Our Pets includes the most up to date information on the factors that may cause cancer in pets and preventive measures that can be taken The full spectrum of conventional and alternative treatments is presented in this essential resource for the care and protection of our beloved pets

First Nations, First Dogs Bryan David Cummins, 2002 Yet not all knowledge of these breeds has been lost with them Legends journals artwork and photos remain to document these dogs and their characteristics and they are featured here with the aim of showing the profound impact they had on First Nations cultures
