On Living with Television Amy Holdsworth,2021-10-04 In On Living with Television Amy Holdsworth examines the characteristics of intimacy familiarity repetition and duration that have come to exemplify the medium of television Drawing on feminist television studies queer theory and disability studies as well as autobiographical life writing practices Holdsworth shows how television shapes everyday activities from eating and sleeping to driving and homemaking Recounting her own life with television she offers a sense of the joys and pleasures Disney videos brought to her disabled sister traces how bedtime television becomes part of a daily routine between child and caregiver explores her own relationship to binge eating and binge viewing and considers the idea of home through the BBC family drama Last Tango in Halifax By foregrounding the ways in which television structures our relationships daily routines and sense of time Holdsworth demonstrates how television emerges as a potent vehicle for writing about life

Ethnography in the Open Science and Digital Age: New Debates, Dilemmas, and Issues Colin Jerolmack,Alexandra Murphy ,Victoria Reyes,2024-06-19 In the current moment ethnography is caught up in a number of debates that have led ethnographers to reflect on classic methodological and ethical dilemmas in new ways The replication crisis had led to a movement for open science e g registering hypotheses in advance sharing codes and data but it seems unclear that recommended best practices are appropriate to ethnography It s even up for debate whether ethnography is more of a social science or a genre The fact that many ethnographies are widely read invites questions and criticisms from beyond the ivory tower including our subjects about the ethics of representation e g who has license to write about whom and the extent to which journalistic standards of data verification and transparency e g fact checking naming sources should apply to qualitative research Some ethnographers are calling for more open critical discussions about the embodied dimensions of fieldwork including not only emotions but also issues like sexual intimacy and harassment There s also a growing expectation that ethnographers empower our subjects to represent and analyze themselves What s more as more of social life is lived online it becomes increasingly unclear where the boundaries of the field site should be drawn and whether ethnographic conventions can be applied wholesale to the study of digital spaces
