Doing Fieldwork In Japan:

Doing Fieldwork in Japan Theodore C. Bestor, Patricia G. Steinhoff, Victoria Lyon Bestor, 2003-07-31 Doing Fieldwork in Japan taps the expertise of North American and European specialists on the practicalities of conducting long term research in the social sciences and cultural studies In lively first person accounts they discuss their successes and failures doing fieldwork across rural and urban Japan in a wide range of settings among religious pilgrims and adolescent consumers on factory assembly lines and in high schools and wholesale seafood markets with bureaucrats in charge of defense foreign aid and social welfare policy inside radical political movements among adherents of New Religions inside a prosecutor's office and the JET Program for foreign English teachers with journalists in the NHK newsroom while researching race ethnicity and migration and amidst fans and consumers of contemporary popular culture Contributors David M Arase Theodore C Bestor Victoria Lyon Bestor Mary C Brinton John Creighton Campbell Samuel Coleman Suzanne Culter Andrew Gordon Helen Hardacre Joy Hendry David T Johnson Ellis S Krauss David L McConnell Ian Reader Glenda S Roberts Joshua Hotaka Roth Robert J Smith Sheila A Smith Patricia G Steinhoff Merry Isaacs White Christine R Yano Doing Fieldwork Rosalie Wax, 1985 Recounting her own field experiences in Japanese American relocation centers during World War II and later in American Indian communities Rosalie H Wax offers advice to help the beginning field worker anticipate and confront the exigencies and accidents of fieldwork with good nature fortitude and common sense Doing Fieldwork is a useful book in many respects as a guide to participant observation and ethnographic fieldwork as an analysis of the theoretical presuppositions and history of fieldwork as a discussion of contemporary issues in social science research and simply as an entertaining and dramatic story Politics and Pitfalls of Japan Ethnography Jennifer Robertson, 2013-10-18 Four anthropologists Elise Edwards Ann Elise Lewallen Bridget Love and Tomomi Yamaguchi draw on their fieldwork experiences in Japan to demonstrate collectively the inadequacy of both the Code of Ethics developed by the American Anthropological Association AAA and the dictates of Institutional Review Boards IRB when dealing with messy human realities The four candidly and critically explore the existential dilemmas they were forced to confront with respect to this inadequacy for the AAA's code and IRBs consider neither the vulnerability and powerlessness of ethnographers nor the wholly unethical and even criminal deportment of some informants As Jennifer Robertson points out in her Introduction whereas the AAA's Code tends to perpetuate the stereotype of more advantaged fieldworkers studying less advantaged peoples IRBs appear to protect their home institutions from possible litigation rather than living and breathing people whose lives are often ethically compromised irrespective of the presence of an ethnographer In her commentary Sabine Fr hst ck who incurred ample experience with ethical dilemmas in the course of her pathbreaking ethnographic research on Japan's Self Defense Forces situates the four articles in a broader theoretical context and emphasizes the link between political engagement and ethnographic accuracy This book was previously published as a special issue of Critical Asian Studies Adoption of

Corporate Social Responsibility by Japanese Companies Holtschneider, Uwe, 2015 Corporate social responsibility CSR is a topical issue in many countries What are the drivers for the global spread of explicit CSR practices that are demonstrated to the outside even in countries where companies had addressed CSR implicitly What catalyzes organizations to adopt CSR and how does their adoption influence other companies likelihood to adopt CSR This book approaches the recent world wide adoption of CSR practices as part of the global spread of management concepts The trend to adopt CSR is examined among Japanese companies because they have rapidly adopted CSR practices in the last two decades Existing empirical research on CSR in Japan that has focused mainly on anecdotal evidence on a small number of outstanding companies is extended by employing both qualitative and quantitative empirical research methods Analyzing drivers for the adoption of CSR practices organizational characteristics of adopting companies and how increasing adoption influences the likelihood to adopt provides insights into how Japanese institutions and stakeholders facilitated rapid CSR adoption and the process of CSR diffusion

Routledge Handbook of Families in Asia Stella R. Quah, 2015-03-24 Research on the family has expanded considerably across Asia but studies tend to be fragmented focusing on narrow issues within limited areas cities towns small communities and may not be accessible to international readers These limitations make it difficult for researchers students policy makers and practitioners to obtain the information they need The Routledge Handbook of Families in Asia fills that gap by providing a current and comprehensive analysis of Asian families by a wide range of experts in a single publication The thirty two chapters of this comparative and multi disciplinary volume are organized into nine major themes conceptual approaches methodological issues family life in the context of culture family relationships across the family life cycle issues of work and income stress and conflict family diversity family policy and laws and environmental setting of homes Each chapter examines family life across Asian countries studying cultural similarities and differences and exploring how families are changing and what trends are likely to develop in the future To provide a fruitful learning experience for the reader each chapter offers examples relevant data and a comprehensive list of references Offering a complete interdisciplinary overview of families in Asia the Handbook will be of interest to students academics policy makers and practitioners across the disciplines of Asian Studies Sociology Demography Social Work Law Social Policy Anthropology Geography Public Health and Architecture

Religion in Japanese Daily Life David C. Lewis, 2017-09-22 Are Japanese people religious and if so in what ways David Lewis addresses this question from the perspective of ordinary Japanese people in the context of their life cycles and explores why they engage in religious activities He not only discusses how Japanese people engage in different religious practices as they encounter new events in their lives but also analyses the attitudes and motivations behind their behaviour Activities such as fortune telling religious rites in the workplace ancestral rites and visits to shrines and temples are actually engaged in by many people who view themselves as non religious but express their motivations in terms other than the conventional religious ones This book outlines the religious options available and assesses why people choose particular religious activities at various times in their lives or in specific circumstances The author challenges some widespread assumptions about religion in urban and industrial contexts and also shows how some of the underlying motivations behind Japanese behaviour are expressed both in religious and non religious forms

Japanese Diaspora and Migration Reconsidered Yvonne Siemann, 2022-03-30 In contrast to most studies of migration which assume that migrants arrive from less developed countries to the industrialised world where they suffer from discrimination poor living conditions and downward social mobility this book examines a different sort of diaspora descendants of Japanese migrants or Nikkei in Bolivia who after a history of organised migration have achieved middle class status in a developing country while enjoying much symbolic capital among the majority population Based on extensive original research the book considers the everyday lives of Nikkei and their identity discusses how despite their relative success they remain not fully integrated into Bolivia's imperfect pluricultural society and explores how they think about and relate to Japan

Alternative Art and Anthropology Arnd Schneider, 2020-05-14 While the importance of the relationship between anthropology and contemporary art has long been recognized the discussion has tended to be among scholars from North America Europe and Australia until now scholarship and experiences from other regions have been largely absent from mainstream debate Alternative Art and Anthropology Global Encounters rectifies this by offering a ground breaking new approach to the subject Entirely dedicated to perspectives from Asia Latin America and Africa the book advances our understanding of the connections between anthropology and contemporary art on a global scale Across ten chapters a range of anthropologists artists and curators from countries such as China Japan Indonesia Bhutan Nigeria Chile Ecuador and the Philippines discuss encounters between anthropology and contemporary art from their points of view presenting readers with new vantage points and perspectives Arnd Schneider a leading scholar in the field draws together the various threads to provide readers with a clear conceptual and theoretical narrative The first to map the relationship between anthropology and contemporary art from a global perspective this is a key text for students and academics in areas such as anthropology visual anthropology anthropology of art art history and curatorial studies
