Doing Development Governments Ngos And The Rural Poor In Asia:

Doing Development Richard Holloway, 2013-11-05 The absolutely poor who are mostly rural people are a large part of the developing world's population and their numbers are growing Government development programmes aided by the big donors have made the poor poorer and have rendered them more powerless in relation to the rest of society They have done this by sustaining and reinforcing existing exploitative economic social and political structures Yet people s movements religious organizations voluntary groups universities and so on have often devised alternative development strategies whose programmes are specifically intended to empower the powerless and selectively enrich the poorest These groups lack the funds and the political punch to make much more than a dent in the situation This book brings together some of these workers from the South who describe the problems and provide the answers They are a challenge to the received wisdom of the North Originally published in 1989 Government-NGO Relations in Asia Noeleen Heyzer, 1996-01-12 Governments and NGOs non governmental organizations in Asia face critical development challenges This volume examines ways to improve the policy environment for NGOs in Asia so that they may contribute more effectively to the development process The contributors identify the main factors which influence the policy environment for NGOs characterize and compare the political space for NGOs examine the roles that governments and international development agencies can play in supporting NGOs and propose possible strategies and policy guidelines for improving government NGO relations in Asia Politics of NGOs in Southeast Asia Gerard Clarke, 2006-05-17 The Politics of NGOs in Southeast Asia traces the history of the emergence of NGOs in the Philippines and southeast Asia and the political factors which encouraged this The main focus is on the period from the mid 1990s when NGOs first became a notable force in the region It documents the complex relations between NGOs and other political actors including the state organised religion foreign donors the business sector and underground insurgent groups and their impact on NGO strategy Institutional Imperatives for South Asian Environmental NGOs T. R. Ramanathan, 1992 International Perspectives on Voluntary Action David Lewis, 2009 The State and the Poor John Echeverri-Gent, 2023-12-22 This comparison of rural development in India and the United States develops important departures from economic and historical institutionalism It elaborates a new conceptual framework for analyzing state society relations beginning from the premise that policy implementation as the site of tangible exchanges between state and society provides strategic interaction among self interested individuals social groups and bureaucracies It demonstrates how this interaction can be harnessed to enhance the effectiveness of public policy Echeverri Gent s application of this framework to poverty alleviation programs generates provocative insights about the ways in which institutions and social structure constrain policy makers In the process he illuminates new implications for the concepts of state autonomy and state capacity The book s original conceptual framework and intriguing findings will interest scholars of South Asia and American politics social theorists and policy makers This comparison of rural development in India and the United States develops important departures from economic and historical institutionalism It elaborates a new conceptual framework for analyzing state society relations beginning from the premise that International Social Work David Cox, Manohar S. Pawar, 2006 This well written book will undoubtedly help those interested in working in the domain of international social work and social development SHORTER NOTICES Global poverty widespread conflict and post conflict reconstruction and the large population of displaced persons are just a few of the rising number of global situations that are adversely affecting the well being of millions of people Practitioners from several professions are deeply concerned about these issues and are becoming increasingly active in addressing these matters at the local national and international levels International Social Work Issues Strategies and Programs draws together the practice wisdom emerging within the broad scope of international social work practice Using an integrated perspectives approach which incorporates global human rights ecological and social development perspectives authors David Cox and Manohar Pawar prepare readers to actively respond to modern global challenges that are critical to the well being of people communities nations and ultimately to all of us Key Features Provides an integrated perspectives approach to international social work and social development practice to give readers alternative theoretical frameworks not found in other books Focuses on the experience of teaching and practicing international social work rather than reflecting on the field Includes tables chapter summaries learning exercises and questions possible research areas and recommended readings to prompt critical thinking and classroom discussion This book is designed to teach international social work practice to students and practitioners at all levels International Social Work is an ideal text for undergraduate and graduate courses in Social Work and Development Studies as well as an excellent resource for social workers human services professionals and development practitioners The Companion to Development Studies Vandana Desai, Robert B. Potter, 2008 The Companion to Development Studies is an essential one stop reference for anyone with an interest in development studies Over 100 international experts have been brought together to present a comprehensive overview of the key theoretical and practical issues dominating contemporary development studies Building on the success of the first edition the second edition of the Companion has been thoroughly revised and updated and includes new chapters on a range of topics including ageing culture and development corruption and development and global terrorism Each chapter summarises current debates and provides guidance for further reading and research The Companion to Development Studies is indispensable for students of development studies at all levels from undergraduate to postgraduate and beyond in departments of development studies geography politics international relations sociology social Nongovernments Julie Fisher, 1998 A complete overview of the composition and types of anthropology and economics NGOs that have emerged in recent years Julie Fisher describes in detail the influence these organizations have had on political systems throughout the world and the hope their existence holds for the realization of sustainable development
