Doing Irish Local History:

Doing Irish Local History Raymond Gillespie, Myrtle Hill, 1998 In this book eight distinguished practitioners write about the variety of ways in which local history might be done Throughout there is concrete help and advice for both beginners and experienced local historians as their subject is put under the microscope for the first time Back cover British Librarianship and Information Work 1991-2000 J.H. Bowman, 2017-07-28 This important reference volume covers developments in almost every aspect of British library and information work during the ten year period 1991 2000 Some forty contributors all of whom are experts in their subject provide a robust overview of their specialities along with extensive further references which act as a starting point for further research The book provides a comprehensive record of what took place in library and information management during a decade of considerable change and challenges It is an essential reference resource for librarians and information professionals Byrne's Dictionary of Irish Local History Joseph Byrne, 2004 This dictionary brings together an extensive range of key local history terminology from earliest times to 1900

Irish Economic and Social History, 1999 Forkhill Protestants and Forkhill Catholics, 1787-1858 Kyla Madden, 2005-11-22 In the late eighteenth century an influx of Protestant settlers to the mainly Catholic parish of Forkhill on the Ulster borderlands provoked clashes between natives and newcomers None was more horrific than the brutal attack on a Protestant schoolmaster and his family in the winter of 1791 The conflict was immediately cast in sectarian terms leading to more than 200 years of ill will But was it a misdiagnosis Forkhill Protestants and Forkhill Catholics explores the social history of the parish between 1787 and 1858 In a wide ranging analysis Kyla Madden demonstrates that there was a greater degree of cooperation and exchange between Catholics and Protestants than the historical record has acknowledged Madden contends that since some of our widely held assumptions about the patterns of Irish history dissolve under scrutiny at the local level they should be more cautiously applied on a larger scale Maps and Map-making in Local History Jacinta Prunty, 2004 Encyclopedia of Local History Amy H. Wilson, 2017-02-06 The Encyclopedia of Local History addresses nearly every aspect of local history including everyday issues theoretical approaches and trends in the field This encyclopedia provides both the casual browser and the dedicated historian with adept commentary by bringing the voices of over one hundred experts together in one place Entries include Terms specifically related to the everyday practice of interpreting local history in the United States such as African American History City Directories and Latter Day Saints Historical and documentary terms applied to local history such as Abstract Culinary History and Diaries Detailed entries for major associations and institutions that specifically focus on their usage in local history projects such as Library of Congress and Society of American Archivists Entries for every state and Canadian province covering major informational sources critical to understanding local history in that region Entries for every major immigrant group and ethnicity Brand new to this edition are critical topics covering both the practice of and major current areas of research in local history such as Digitization LGBT

History museum theater and STEM education Also new to this edition are graphics including 48 photographs Overseen by a blue ribbon Editorial Advisory Board Anne W Ackerson James D Folts Tim Grove Carol Kammen and Max A van Balgooy this essential reference will be frequently consulted in academic libraries with American and Canadian history programs public libraries supporting local history museums historic sites and houses and local archives in the U S and Canada This third edition is the first to include photographs Encyclopedia of Local History Carol Kammen,Amy H.
