Domestic Politics And Regional Security Jordan Syria And Israel The End Of An Era

Neil Quilliam

Domestic Politics And Regional Security Jordan Syria And Israel The End Of An Era:

Domestic Politics and Regional Security Valerie Yorke, 1988 Israeli Politics and the Middle East Peace Process, 1988-2002 Hassan A. Barari, 2004-07-31 This book argues that domestic Israeli politics have been a key factor in determining Israeli Palestinian peacemaking in the period from 1988 to the present The Cold War and the Middle East Yezid Sayigh, Avi Shlaim, 1997-05-22 The Cold War has been researched in minute detail and written about at great length but it remains one of the most elusive and enigmatic conflicts of modern times With the ending of the Cold War it is now possible to review the entire post war period to examine the Cold War as history The Middle East occupies a special place in the history of the Cold War It was critical to its birth its life and its demise In the aftermath of the Second World War it became one of the major theatres of the Cold War on account of its strategic importance and its oil resources The key to the international politics of the Middle East during the Cold War era is the relationship between external powers and local powers Most of the existing literature on the subject focuses on the policies of the Great Powers towards the local region The Cold War and the Middle East redresses the balance by concentrating on the policies of the local actors It looks at the politics of the region not just from the outside in but from the inside out The contributors to this volume are leading scholars in the field whose interests combine International Relations and Middle Eastern Studies Persistent Permeability? Bassel F. Salloukh, 2017-03-02 With the collapse of the Middle East peace process the war on terrorism and US led intervention in Iraq the question of Middle East regionalism s has reached a new salience Will such developments usher in a new wave of transnational politics as events reverberate through a Middle East made even more permeable by new information technologies and transregional religious networks Or will authoritarian states successfully insulate themselves from such effects What impact will globalization have on local identities and local politics To what extent might issues of regional permeability be mediated by class gender ethnicity population migration or other factors The contributors to Persistent Permeability address such questions from a variety of analytical perspectives In doing so they offer a valuable contribution essential for all those interested in Middle East politics and international relations Society - Water - Technology Reinhard F. Hüttel, Oliver Bens, Christine Bismuth, Sebastian Hoechstetter, 2015-11-02 This book presents the results of the Interdisciplinary Research Group Society Water Technology of the Berlin Brandenburg Academy of Sciences and Humanities It describes interdisciplinary evaluation criteria for major water engineering projects MWEPs and portrays an application to the Lower Jordan Valley Middle East and the Fergana Valley Central Asia Both areas are characterised by transboundary conflicts by challenges due to demographic and climate change and by political and societal pressures Based on the findings the book provides recommendations for science and political decisions makers as well as for international financing institutions In addition it outlines research gaps from an interdisciplinary perspective In the past MWEPs have been used as an instrument to cope with the demands of growing populations and to enhance development progress Experiences with describe the post World War II research on the politics of the states and of the Palestinians of the region The literature on international relations of the region is reviewed and the approach to political economy is discussed Written by the foremost experts on their respective subjects the chapters also identify the gaps in the literature and fruitful areas for future research The chapter references constitute a bibliographical treasure for those seeking to study the politics of the region Annotations enable the reader to better select works for further research This volume provides a complete analysis of the state of the field an agenda for future research and a detailed annotated bibliography of the best research published

Why Enduring Rivalries Do--or Don't--end Eric W. Cox,2010 Why do some enduring violent rivalries between states end peacefully while others drag on interminably or cease only with the complete collapse or defeat of one of the states Eric Cox provides extensive evidence to support his explanation of how these disputes end comparing successful and failed attempts to terminate rivalries in Latin America and the Middle East

Inter-Arab Alliances Curtis R. Ryan,2009 The topic of international relations in the Arab world is as complex as it is important Ryan gives the reader the theoretical background and shows its direct applicability through the foreign policy of Jordan
