Case Studies in Family Violence Robert T. Ammerman,Michel Hersen,1991-01-31 The past 20 years have seen the emergence of family violence as one of the most critical problems facing society The alarming incidence figures of abuse and neglect directed toward family members justify this attention For example over 1 million children are thought to be abused and neglected each year Similarly almost 2 million women are victims of wife battering each year Annual rates of elderly mistreatment are thought to be as high as 32 per 1000 population Accurate epidemiological data only now are being compiled on more recently recognized forms of mistreatment such as psychological abuse ritualistic abuse of children and child witnessing of adult violence The pervasiveness of domestic mistreatment makes it a priority for clinicians and researchers alike For clinicians intrafamilial violence represents a formidable challenge with respect to assessment and treatment The etiology of abuse and neglect is multidetermined There are numerous pathways in the development of family violence and these interact and converge in a nonlinear fashion The consequences of family violence are equally complex and divergent Victims of mistreatment can display a variety of physical injuries and psychological disturbances No single psychiatric syndrome or symptom constellation has been consistently implicated in any form of family mistreatment The perpetrators of family violence are equally heterogeneous in their clinical presentations Illustrative dysfunctions in perpetrators include skill deficits substance abuse mental illness and impulse control disorders

Empowering and Healing the Battered Woman Mary Ann Dutton, 1992-08-15 In this volume Mary Ann Dutton presents her innovative work with battered women It is solidly grounded in research as well as in the social and political analysis of domestic violence Her work is based on extensive contact with battered women in both clinical and forensic settings Dutton first outlines a conceptual framework for understanding the battered woman's response to violence abuse and control This serves as the foundation for both assessment and intervention Her framework has application within both a clinical and a forensic context She also discusses battered women's strategies for escape avoidance and survival The text spells out in concrete practical terms what it means to place the pathology outside the battered woman and its implication for practice that battered women are not sick but they are in a sick situation From this premise Dutton creates a model with three primary goals for working with battered women 1 safety first 2 empowerment through choice making and 3 healing the psychological trauma This is an essential book for mental health professionals involved with clinical intervention in domestic violence and for legal professionals interested in understanding the impact of domestic violence on battered women A Handbook for Health and Social Service Providers and Educators on Children Exposed to Woman Abuse/family Violence Marlies Sudermann, Peter Jaffe, National Clearinghouse on Family Violence (Canada), Canada.
