Donald Judd Thomas Kellein, 2002      Harvey Quaytman Apsara DiQuinzio, 2018-10-23 Harvey Quaytman's paintings are distinct for their inventive whimsical exploration of shape meticulous attention to surface texture and experimental application of color While his works display a rigorous commitment to formalism they are simultaneously invested with rich undertones of sensuality decorativeness and humor expressed too in his playful poetic titles such as A Street Called Straight and Kufikind Demonstrating the arc of Quaytman's oeuvre from his radically curvilinear canvases of the late 1960s and 1970s to his exploration of serialized geometric abstraction in the 1980s and finally to his serene cruciform canvases of the 1990s this retrospective exhibition and accompanying illustrated catalogue is a timely reconsideration of Quaytman's influential work placing him and his work more prominently in the trajectory of American modern art With contributions by Suzanne Hudson and John Yau as well reflections by R H Quaytman an artist and the daughter of Harvey Quaytman on her father's work and life Published in association with the Berkeley Art Museum and Pacific Film Archive BAMPFA Exhibition dates October 17 2018 January 27 2019 Berkeley Museum of Art Pacific Film Archive BAMPFA      Contemporary Clay and Museum Culture Christie Brown, Julian Stair, Clare Twomey, 2016-06-17 This groundbreaking book is the first to provide a critical overview of the relationship between contemporary ceramics and curatorial practice in museum culture Ceramic objects form a major part of museum collections with connections to anthropology archaeology and other disciplines that engage with the cultural and social history of humankind In recent years museums have provided the impetus for cutting edge artistic practice either as a response to particular collections or as part of exhibitions But the question of how museums have staged contemporary ceramics and how ceramic artists respond to museum collections has not been the subject of published research to date This book examines how ceramic artists have over the last decade begun to animate museum collections in new ways and reflects on the impact that these new initiatives have had in the broad context of visual culture Ceramics in the Expanded Field is the culmination of a three year AHRC funded project and reflects its major findings It brings together leading international voices in the field of ceramics research undertaken throughout the project and papers delivered at the concluding conference By examining the benefits and constraints of interventions and the dialogue between ceramics and museological practice this book will bring focus to an area of museology that has not yet been theorized and will contribute to policy debates and art practice      Art in America Frank Jewett Mather, Frederic Fairchild Sherman, 2003-07      Donald Judd, 2003      Hybrid Modernity Mary Padua, 2020-07-26 This book provides a detailed historical and design analysis of the development of parks and modern landscape architecture in late 20th century China It questions whether the fusion of international influences with the local Chinese design vocabulary in late 20th century China has created a distinctive and novel approach to the design of public parks Hybrid Modernity proposes a new theory for examining the design of public parks built in post Mao China since the reforms and sets the various processes for China's late

20th century socio cultural context Drawing on modernization theory research on China s modernity local and global cultural trends it illustrates through a range of case studies ways hybrid modernity defines a new design genre and language for the spatial forms of parks that emerged in China s secondary cities Featured case studies include the Living Water Park in Chengdu Sichuan province Zhongshan Shipyard Park in Guangdong Province Jinji Lake Landscape Master Plan in Suzhou Jiangsu province and the West Lake Southern Scenic Area Master Plan in Hangzhou Zhejiang province This book argues that these forms represent a new stage in China s history of landscape architecture The work reveals that as a new profession landscape architecture has greatly contributed to China s massive urban experiment This book is an ideal read for students enrolled in landscape architecture fine arts and urban planning programs who are engaged in learning the arts and international design education American Artists Engage the Built Environment, 1960-1979 Susannah

Bieber,2023-07-31 This volume reframes the development of US American avant garde art of the long 1960s from minimal and pop art to land art conceptual art site specific practices and feminist art in the context of contemporary architectural discourses Susannah Bieber analyzes the work of seven major artists Donald Judd Robert Grosvenor Claes Oldenburg Robert Smithson Lawrence Weiner Gordon Matta Clark and Mary Miss who were closely associated with the formal aesthetic innovations of the period While these individual artists came to represent diverse movements Bieber argues that all of them were attracted to the field of architecture the work of architects engineers preservationists landscape designers and urban planners because they believed these practices more directly shaped the social and material spaces of everyday life This book s contribution to the field of art history is thus twofold First it shows that the avant garde of the long 1960s did not simply develop according to an internal logic of art but also as part of broader sociocultural discourses about buildings and cities Second it exemplifies a methodological synthesis between social art history and poststructural formalism that is foundational to understanding the role of art in the construction of a more just and egalitarian society The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history architecture urbanism and environmental humanism Donald Judd Donald Judd,Richard

Siegel,2020-10-14 This book is a study of the complex relationship between matter and idea that shaped the nineteenth century culture of art and that in turn determined the course of still current accounts of art s nature and value Fundamental questions about the effects of material conditions on the creation and reception of art arose as early as the nineteenth century and put important pressures on later eras The place of class distinctions in the making and reception of art the relationship between copy and original the effects of display on art appreciation even the role of pleasure itself this book treats these and related issues as productive conceptual challenges with an unresolved relationship to matter at their core

Drawing on recent scholarship on the history of art and its institutions Material Inspirations places cultural developments such as the emergence of new sites for exhibition and the astonishing proliferation of printed reproductions alongside a wide range of texts including novels poems travel guidebooks compendia of antiquities and especially the great line of critical writing that emerged in the period The study vivifies a dynamic era which is still too often seen as static and unchanging by emphasizing the transformations taking place throughout the period in precisely those areas that have appeared to promise little more than repetition or continuity collection exhibition and reproduction The book culminates with the two great critics of the period John Ruskin and Walter Pater but it also includes close analysis of other prose writers as well as poets and novelists ranging from William Blake to Robert Browning George Eliot to Henry James Significant developments addressed include the vogue for the representation of Old Masters in the first half of the century ongoing innovations in the creation and diffusion of reproductions and the emergence of the field of art history itself At the heart of each of these the book identifies a material pressure shaping concepts texts and works of art
