New Hybrid Work Schedule Ideas For Men:

Agricultural Science Review, 1972 Masculinity, Marriage and Rural Men in Urban China Sarah Gosper, 2024-12-31 This book explores the conjuncture and interrelationship between three so called crises facing Chinese society a crisis of marriage a crisis of masculinity and a crisis of mobility Based on sustained ethnographic research on unmarried lower class rural men from two distinct social and class categories namely migrant workers employed in the food delivery and express mail delivery industries and tertiary educated white collar professionals the book reveals how the increasing socio economic precarity of rural men and their largely unrealised desires to marry and have children demonstrates a fundamental reconfiguration of Chinese masculinity and mobility in urban China and the social impact on central Chinese institutions The book also reveals the futile efforts to fulfil hegemonic models of masculinity in contemporary China and addresses the heterogeneity of unmarried lower class rural men as they navigate marriage manhood and mobility Exploring gender relations in China and contributing to global studies of heterosexual masculinities this book will appeal to students and scholars of Chinese culture and society gender studies and social anthropology White Man's Work Joseph O. Jewell, 2023-11-07 In the financial chaos of the last few decades increasing wealth inequality has shaken people's expectations about middle class stability At the same time demographers have predicted the browning of the nation's middle class once considered a de facto white category over the next twenty years as the country becomes increasingly racially diverse In this book Joseph O Jewell takes us back to the turn of the twentieth century to show how evidence of middle class mobility among Black Mexican American and Chinese men generated both new anxieties and varieties of backlash among white populations Blending cultural history and historical sociology Jewell chronicles the continually evolving narratives that linked whiteness with middle class mobility and middle class manhood In doing so Jewell addresses a key issue in the historical sociology of race how racialized groups demarcate defend and alter social positions in overlapping hierarchies of race class and gender New racist narratives about non white men occupying middle class occupations emerged in cities across the nation at the turn of the century These stories helped to shore up white supremacy in the face of far reaching changes to the nation's racialized economic order The Painter and Decorator, 1954 Management Angelo Kinicki, Denise Breau Soignet, 2002 Learning to Rule Daniel Barish, 2022-02-08 In the second half of the nineteenth century local leaders around the Qing empire attempted to rebuild in the aftermath of domestic rebellion and imperialist aggression At the same time the enthronement of a series of children brought the question of reconstruction into the heart of the capital Chinese scholars Manchu and Mongolian officials and writers in the press all competed to have their ideas included in the education of young rulers Each group hoped to use the power of the emperor both his functional role within the bureaucracy and his symbolic role as an exemplar for the people to promote reform Daniel Barish explores debates surrounding the education of the final three Qing emperors showing how imperial curricula became proxy battles for divergent visions of how to restabilize the country He sheds light on the efforts of rival figures who drew on China's dynastic history Manchu traditions and the statecraft tools of imperial powers as they sought to remake the state Barish traces how court education reflected arguments over the introduction of Western learning the fate of the Manchu Way the place of women in society notions of constitutionalism and emergent conceptions of national identity He emphasizes how changing ideas of education intersected with a push for a renewed imperial center and national unity helping create a model of rulership for postimperial regimes Through the lens of the education of young emperors Learning to Rule develops a new understanding of the late Qing era and the relationship between the monarchy and the nation in modern China
