

A futuristic classroom scene where a white humanoid robot with glowing blue joints interacts with students. The robot is pointing at a transparent digital screen displaying data. In the foreground, a male student with brown hair and a blue headset looks towards the robot. Behind him, another male student with dark hair and a blue headset also looks in the same direction. In the background, several other students, mostly women, are seated at desks, some wearing headsets, suggesting a large-scale educational environment. The overall lighting is soft and modern, with blue accents from the robot and headsets.
