

Writing Decisions – Reflection Activity

Select at least 3 of your discussion post initial responses and/or completed assignment from this course to use as you complete the activities below.

Use the following strategies as you reflect on your writing:

- Re-read your writing out of order. For instance, read the end or the middle of the passage before the beginning. Reading it this way disrupts the order and allows the errors to stand out.
- Cut and paste your selection into another document or enlarge the text. This strategy allows you to see the writing differently and identify any patterns.
- Read the selection aloud to yourself or use software to read it to you.
- Have a trusted friend, peer, or family member review your work and discuss what to change. Using outside resources can provide a valuable perspective when you revise and edit your work.
- Spell-check your work using Microsoft® Word or another grammar tool, such as Grammarly®.

Read your writing samples you selected and consider the following questions:

- What do you like about your work?
- What doesn't seem quite right?
- What feedback did your faculty member provide?
- If you used any spelling or grammar tools or received feedback from others, what did that feedback indicate?

Now that you've completed your review of your selected writing samples, write a 100- to 175-word response to each of the following reflective prompts in the space provided below each question. Review each response for correct spelling, grammar, and clarity before you submit your assignment.

1. Based on what you learned during this course, what genres do you recognize you use in your personal life, in your career, or in academic writing? Besides narrative writing, I also write persuasive and expository in my personal life. It is common for me to tell stories and share experiences in my personal life through narrative writing. I use persuasive writing to make a case or convince someone to do something. Finally, I use expository writing to explain concepts or ideas, such as when I explain a recipe to a friend or give advice to a family member. In my career, I use genres such as business writing, technical writing, and grant writing. Business writing is used for communication purposes in a professional setting. I use it when I draft emails to colleagues, memos to supervisors, or reports to clients. Technical writing is used to explain complex topics in easy-to-understand language, which I often do when I work on software documentation or user guides. Grant writing is used to write proposals and secure funding, which I do when I apply for grants or write grant applications for my company. In academic writing, I use genres such as argumentative, research, and analytical writing. Argumentative writing is used to make a claim about a topic and support it with evidence. I often use this type of writing when I draft essays or research papers. Research writing is used to find and analyze information, which I do when I conduct research for projects or papers. Analytical writing is used to evaluate a situation or issue and reach a conclusion, which I do when I analyze data or evaluate a theory. Overall, I use a variety of genres in my personal life, career, and academic writing. Each genre
