through the seasons in the Mississippi and Arkansas River Valleys Neither biography nor diary it is at times personal narrative and at times just the moment conveyed as purely as possible We are sometimes only what we have seen and who we recall in the seeing It is the joy of going even for an hour This is the come back and tell it part Among dogs armadillos songbirds and children sometimes it is best just to be humble and stay out of the way Sometimes you laugh and write it down

Making Poems Todd F. Davis, Erin Murphy, 2010-02-02 This diverse collection of poems and companion essays by forty nationally and internationally known poets allows readers to experience the creative process through the eyes and voice of each poet No matter how often we are told that revision is an essential component of poetic composition it can be difficult to resist the temptation to think of the poem as having sprung spontaneously Athena like from the writer's head By exposing readers to the finished product as well as the poet's own account of the poem's creation Making Poems offers a behind the scenes perspective on the poetic process that will fascinate both beginning and established writers The book also affords poetry instructors an opportunity to demonstrate to their students the ways in which poems can originate from seemingly mundane and unlikely sources

Suddenness and the Composition of Poetic Thought Paul Magee, 2024-04-08 Interrogating the much cherished concept of poetic thinking this book focuses on what interview and draft materials reveal of how poets actually do think when in the act of writing The interviews confirm what findings from cognitive science and linguistics make clear we rarely know exactly what words we are going to say until we have said them Suddenness and the Composition of Poetic Thought draws out the implications of a radically curtailed view of consciousness on how we understand the drafting and revision of lines of poetry with implications for our theorisation of the composition of prose Henrich von Kleist's assertion that it is not we but a certain condition of ours which knows emerges as central to this reassessment of the nature of the written word Employing an extensive archive of interview materials with major Anglophone poets discussing how they think in the moments of composition this book also provides a lucid account of the links between poetic composition and live performative thinking in the contexts of Romantic compositional practice and the early pre-textual history of ancient Greek epic A transdisciplinary study at the crossroads of philosophy cognitive psychology literary studies and linguistics this book reconceptualizes the wellsprings of poetic thought and advances our understanding of thinking's complex but vital link to improvised speech
