Decolonization And World Peace:

Decolonization and World Peace Brian Urquhart, 1989-08-01 Brian Urquhart's remarkable career in the United Nations began when the UN was founded in 1945 and ended in 1986 after a twelve year tenure as Under Secretary General for Special Political Affairs the equivalent of commander of UN peacekeeping operations Among the many revolutions he observed during that period was the process of decolonization which completely changed the geopolitical map of the world and the conditions under which governments seek to assure world peace In Decolonization and World Peace he charts the rapid progress of decolonization in Africa the Middle East and other areas of the Third World and describes some of its repercussions One of the most serious repercussions has been the chain of regional conflicts arising from the creation of postcolonial power vacuums in various parts of the world Attributing the difficulty in resolving many of these conflicts including the Palestine conflict and the Iran Iraq War to the climate of Cold War that paralyzed UN authority from the 1960s through the early 1980s Urquhart is encouraged by what he calls a new summer of international relations brought on by the warming of relations between the US and the USSR The four chapters of Decolonization and World Peace are based on the Tom Slick World Peace lectures that Urquhart delivered at the Lyndon B Johnson School of Public Affairs of the University of Texas at Austin in 1988 The appendices offer further insights into the peacekeeping potential of the UN Included are his remarks at the Nobel Prize Banquet in Norway on the occasion of the award of the 1988 Nobel Peace Prize to UN peacekeeping forces

Official Records, 1984 Dialogue and Decolonization Monika Kirloskar-Steinbach, 2023-11-16 By bringing together philosophers whose work on political philosophy intellectual history and world philosophies pushes the boundaries of conventional scholarship this collaborative collection opens up space in political philosophy for new approaches Garrick Cooper Sudipta Kaviraj Charles W Mills and Sor hoon Tan respond to the challenges James Tully raises for comparative political thought Arranged around Tully's opening chapter they demonstrate the value of critical dialogue and point to the different attempts cultures make to understand their experiences Through the use of methods from various disciplines and cultural contexts each interlocutor exemplifies the transformative power of genuine democratic dialogue across philosophical traditions Together they call for a radical reorientation of conceptual and intellectual readings from intellectual history including the Afro modern political tradition Indigenous philosophies and the lived experiences of societies in Asia This is an urgent methodological provocation for anyone interested in the ethical conceptual and political challenges of political thought today

Decolonizing Applied Linguistics Research in Latin America Harold Castañeda-Peña, Paola Gamboa, Claire Kramsch, 2023-09-29 This collection explores the critical decolonial practices of applied linguistics researchers from Latin America and the Latin American diaspora shedding light on the processes of epistemological decolonization and moving from a monolingual to a multilingual stance The volume brings together participants from an AILA 2021 symposium in which researchers reflected on applied linguistics in Latin America and on the ways in which it brought concerns around social justice the legacy of coloniality and the role of monolingual English in education to the fore Each chapter is composed of four parts an autobiographical section written both in Spanish or Portuguese and in English followed by a reflection on the epistemological differences between versions a discussion in English of the research project a critical reflection on the epistemic practices and critical pedagogies enacted in the project and the author's understanding of the concept of decolonization and recommendations for further decolonizing the monolingual mindset of language teachers and learners At once linguistic epistemological and political the collection aims to diversify the concept of decoloniality itself and showcase other ways in which decolonial thought can be implemented in language education This book will be of interest to scholars in applied linguistics sociolinguistics and language education

States-in-Waiting Lydia Walker, 2024-05-16 After the Second World War national self determination became a recognized international norm yet it only extended to former colonies Groups within postcolonial states that made alternative sovereign claims were disregarded or actively suppressed Showcasing their contested histories Lydia Walker offers a powerful counternarrative of global decolonization highlighting little known regions marginalized individuals and their hidden or lost archives She depicts the personal connections that linked disparate nationalist struggles across the globe through advocacy networks demonstrating that these advocates had their own agendas and allegiances which she argues could undermine the autonomy of the claimants they supported By foregrounding particular nationalist movements in South Asia and Southern Africa and their transnational advocacy networks States in Waiting illuminates the unendings of decolonization the unfinished and improvised ways that the state centric international system replaced empire which left certain claims of sovereignty perpetually awaiting recognition This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core Maryland journal of international law and trade, 1990 Ideology and Revolution in Southeast Asia 1900-1980 Clive J

Christie, Clive J. Christie, 2012-12-06 The concept of Asian Values has recently been emphasized by East and South East Asian political leaders These leaders have argued that European political values have exercised an unhealthy hegemony over the international system not only because of global influence exercised by European ideas during the colonial period but because of Anglo Saxon dominance over the world orders that were set up in the aftermath of both the First and Second World Wars This book considers the interaction between indigenous Asian values and European ideology and the influence this relationship had on the nationalist and revolutionary movements of Southeast Asia that dominated the political systems of Southeast Asia in the period 1945-1975

Peace, Decolonization, and the Practice of Solidarity Rob Skinner, 2023-10-05 This book shows that the connected histories of decolonization and globalization concern the practices of individuals and movements as much as they do the ideologies of states institutions and organizations Viewing decolonization through non state activist practices and setting anti colonial solidarity in the context of the methods of contemporary global peace movements it argues that seemingly marginal histories can illuminate aspects of the end of empire that are not readily apparent in studies centred on state diplomacy and nationalist movements Focusing on a group of British and American activists including the pacifist campaigner A J Muste the anti apartheid priest Michael Scott and the civil rights organiser Bayard Rustin Skinner explores connected global histories of anti nuclear peace campaigns anti colonialism and decolonization to illuminate new perspectives on the end of empire and the Cold War Studying a failed attempt to infiltrate the French atom bomb test site in southern Algeria and a mass march across the border between Tanganyika and Northern Rhodesia that never took place these stories provide valuable insights into the interactions between local and global scales of historical experience In presenting these histories this book demonstrates how global and transnational histories can challenge and disrupt rather than reinforce hierarchies of power and privileges In doing so it also contributes to ongoing debates surrounding the nature of decolonization as a historical phenomenon by focusing on the practices of activism that shaped and were shaped by the political and intellectual structures of decolonization
