Dream And The Text:

Discourse Processing A. Flammer, W. Kinzelbach, 2000-04-01 Research on discourse or text processing has only recently come into its own. It builds on the work of text analysis which has a long and distinguished history but modern developments in psychology e.g. memory research, artificial intelligence, linguistics and philosophy have contributed to this emergence in the last decade as a lively and promising research area. This book contains 46 selected and edited contributions from the International Symposium held in Fribourg in 1981 and represents a truly international overview of the developments in research on written and oral discourse. The contributions have been grouped according to problem area and not according to methodology with the intention of focusing on the important issues in the field of discourse processing and of showing how diverse approaches contribute to a better understanding of the problems involved. The main themes are text structure, coherence, inference, memory processes, attention and control, goal perspectives and educational implications. The Politics of the Dreamscape Seth Rogoff, 2021-08-25 This book traces the intersection of dreams and power in order to analyze the complex ways representations of dreams and paradigms of dream interpretation reinforce and challenge authoritarian hierarchical structures. The book puts forward the concept of the dreamscape as a pre-representational space that contains anarchistic attributes including its instability or chaotic nature and the lack of a stable or core selfhood and identity in its subjects. The book situates this concept of the dreamscape through an analysis of the Daoist notions of the transformation of things and hundun (chaos) and the biblical concept of tehom (the deep). Using this conceptual framework, this book analyzes paradigmatic moments of dream interpretation along a spectrum from radical anarchist assertions of the primal dreamscape to authoritarian dream texts that seek to reify identity, define and establish hierarchy and support coercive relationships between unequal subjects. The book's key figures include William Blake, Robert Frost, Jacob and Joseph from Genesis, Sigmund Freud, Carl Jung, Jean Rhys, Franz Kafka and the neurobiologist J. Allan Hobson. Hermes' Dilemma and Hamlet's Desire Vincent Crapanzano, 1992 In essays that question how the human sciences, particularly anthropology and psychoanalysis, articulate their fields of study, Crapanzano addresses nothing less than the enormous problem of defining the self in both its individual and collective projections. Legibility in the Age of Signs and Machines, 2018-11-01 Legibility in the Age of Signs and Machines offers a compelling reflection on what the notion of legibility entails in a machinic world in which any form of cultural expression, from literary texts, films, artworks and museum exhibits to archives, laws, computer programs and algorithms, necessarily partakes in ever more complex processes of mass mediation. Divided over four clusters focusing on desire, justice, machine and heritage, the chapters in the volume explore what makes something legible or illegible to whom or indeed what the kinds of reading, processing or navigating such illegibility facilitates or forecloses and the role critical media theory, literary studies and the Humanities in general can play in tackling these and related issues.  Ulanov, 2019-01-31 This book promotes a strong argument for a feminine approach to religious discovery to struggle in the ambiguous gap between the wisdom of the psyche and the wisdom of Scripture between our interior experience of God and the exterior reality of God The Wisdom of the Psyche urges clergy to help parishioners bring forth their unconscious feelings and images to join their conscious thoughts In this way the church allows its members the space to present themselves fully to God and to be fully present to the human need around them The Dream and the Text Carol Schreier Rupprecht, 1993-07-01 This book partakes of a long tradition of dream interpretation but at the same time is unique in its cross cultural and interdisciplinary methods and in its mix of theoretical and analytical approaches It includes a great chronological and geographical range from ancient Sumeria to eighteenth century China medieval Hispanic dream poetry to Italian Renaissance dream theory Shakespeare to Nerval and from Dostoevsky through Emily Bront to Henry James Rupprecht also incorporates various critical orientations including archetypal comparative feminist historicist linguistic postmodern psychoanalytic religious reader response and self psychology Text and Practice Ronald B. Inden, 2006
