learning in their classrooms Choice Richard K. Gardner, Phyllis Grumm, 1976 Connected Histories Eva Pfanzelter, Dirk Rupnow, Éva Kovács, Marianne Windsperger, 2024-09-23 The World Wide Web WWW and digitisation have become important sites and tools for the history of the Holocaust and its commemoration Today some memory institutions use the Internet at a high professional level as a venue for self presentation and as a forum for the discussion of Holocaust related topics for potentially international transcultural and interdisciplinary user groups At the same time it is not always the established institutions that utilise the technical possibilities and potential of the Internet to the maximum Creative and sometimes controversial new forms of storytelling of the Holocaust or more traditional ways of remembering the genocide presented in a new way with digital media often come from people or groups who are not in the realm of influence of the large memorial sites museums and archives Such private stagings have experienced a particular upswing since the boom of social media This democratisation of Holocaust memory and history is crucial though it is as yet undecided how much it will ultimately reinforce old structures and cultural regional or other inequalities or reinvent them The Digital space as an arbitrary and limitless archive for the mediation of the Holocaust spanning from Russia to Brazil is at the centre of the essays collected in this volume This space is also considered as a forum for negotiation a meeting place and a battleground for generations and stories and as such offers the opportunity to reconsider the transgenerational transmission of trauma family histories and communication Here it becomes evident there are new societal intentions and decision making structures that exceed the capabilities of traditional mass media and thrive on the participation of a broad public Teaching controversial issues in Secondary Education Delfín Ortega-Sánchez, Esther Sanz De La Cal, Jaime Ibáñez Quintana, Eduardo Encabo-Fernández, 2025-04-01 Despite the difficulties in defining the concept of controversial issue it can be stated that it has general characteristics based on the integration of conflicting values and interests on the presence of individual or social sensitivities and on the potential generation of emotions Its approach leads to multiple solutions open to discussion such as climate change terrorism or war From the theoretical principles of education for global citizenship the development and acquisition of social competences aimed at providing solutions to contemporary controversial issues is expected The didactic treatment of these contents favors the contrast of argued perspectives elective rationality in decision making in controversial or problematic contexts and social commitment as an inherent part of the democratic process Choice ,1998 Journal of Biological Education ,1993 Digital Age Linda Leveque Bennett, Michael J. Berson, 2007 Current Index to Journals in Education ,2002 The Hepatitis Knowledge Base, a New Direction in Information Retrieval John Carson, 1983

Adolescents and Digital Literacies Sara B.
