Thomas Benson Pollock, 1894      Buddhism and Intelligent Technology Peter D. Hershock, 2021-01-28 Machine learning big data and AI are reshaping the human experience and forcing us to develop a new ethical intelligence Peter Hershock offers a new way to think about attention personal presence and ethics as intelligent technology shatters previously foundational certainties and opens entirely new spaces of opportunity Rather than turning exclusively to cognitive science and contemporary ethical theories Hershock shows how classical Confucian and Socratic philosophies help to make visible what a history of choices about remaking ourselves through control biased technology has rendered invisible But it is in Buddhist thought and practice that Hershock finds the tools for valuing and training our attention resisting the colonization of consciousness and engendering a more equitable and diversity enhancing human technology world relationship Focusing on who we need to be present as to avoid a future in which machines prevent us from either making or learning from our own mistakes Hershock offers a constructive response to the unprecedented perils of intelligent technology and seamlessly blends ancient and contemporary philosophies to envision how to realize its equally unprecedented promises      The Baptist Home Mission Monthly, 1897      Transactions of the English Ceramic Society Embracing Papers & Discussions for ..., 1915      The Thunder Sports Network Chris L. Public Trust in Government Statistics Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Public Administration Select Committee,2013-02-25 In this report the Public Administration Select Committee PASC concludes that despite the positive steps implemented by the Statistics and Registration Service Act 2007 the Act there remain issues and concerns about the way government statistics are produced and disseminated which remain a genuine risk to public confidence in the statistical system and must be addressed The Act was intended to ensure that statistics are produced to the highest professional standards and that effective governance structures are in place to protect transparency and accountability and the Committee found the Act had helped to improve the operation of the statistical system However the Act needs to have greater clarity and transparency in the way it operates and in the functioning of the UK Statistics Authority the Statistics Authority Those who regulate the quality of National Statistics are in the same organisation as those officials who produce data the two groups should have a clear separation in practice but this is hard to demonstrate when they work in the same building and share support services It is also not appropriate that ministers should have lengthy prior access to certain statistics but other interested parties do not The Statistics Authority does not seem to have sufficient control over the quality and integrity of the different data sets and statistical products produced by departments and their agencies Planning and improving data access both within Government and for users outside Government should be given greater attention by the Statistics Authority as well as by Government departments
