Doing Qualitative Research Differently Free Association Narrative And The Interview Method:

Doing Qualitative Research Differently Wendy Hollway, Tony Jefferson, 2000-04-28 This is both a how to book and one that critically reviews many of the assumptions claims and methods of qualitative research Applying a psycho social understanding of subjectivity to research practice involves conceptualising researcher and researched as co producers of meanings in the research relationship The authors use the notion of the defended subject to indicate that people will defend themselves against any anxieties in the information they provide in a research context To interpret interviewees responses should entail developing a method in which narratives are central as should a strategy of interpretation in which interviewees free associations are given precedence over narrative coherence The author

Doing Qualitative Research Differently Wendy Hollway, Tony Jefferson, 2012-11-12 Hollway and Jefferson have updated their ground breaking book for students and researchers looking to do qualitative research differently The new edition critically reviews many of the assumptions claims and methods of qualitative research and also acts as a how to guide to the method the authors call the Free Association Narrative Interview In the new edition the authors situate their arguments firmly within a tradition of psychosocial research and show how their method has developed over the last decade The book follows this approach through the phases of empirical research practice At each stage they use examples from their own research and end with an extended case study which demonstrates the value of their method in producing a psychosocial research subject that is one with socially imbued depth complexity and biographical uniqueness

Psychoanalysis and Digital Culture Jacob Johanssen, 2018-10-31 Psychoanalysis and Digital Culture offers a comprehensive account of our contemporary media environment digital culture and audiences in particular by drawing on psychoanalysis and media studies frameworks It provides an introduction to the psychoanalytic affect theories of Sigmund Freud and Didier Anzieu and applies them theoretically and methodologically in a number of case studies Johanssen argues that digital media fundamentally shape our subjectivities on affective and unconscious levels and he critically analyses phenomena such as television viewing Twitter use affective labour on social media and data mining How does watching television involve the body Why are we so drawn to reality television Why do we share certain things on social media and not others How are bodies represented on social media How do big data and data mining influence our identities Can algorithms help us make better decisions These questions amongst others are addressed in the chapters of this wide ranging book Johanssen shows in a number of case studies how a psychoanalytic angle can bring new insights to audience studies and digital media research more generally From audience research with viewers of the reality television show Embarrassing Bodies and how they unconsciously used it to work through feelings about their own bodies to a critical engagement with Hardt and Negri's notion of affective labour and how individuals with bodily differences used social media for their own affective digital labour the book suggests that an understanding of affect based on Freud and Anzieu is helpful when thinking about media use The monograph also discusses the perverse implications of algorithms big data and data mining for subjectivities In drawing on empirical data and examples throughout Johanssen presents a compelling analysis of our contemporary media environment

Self-Construction in a Transcultural Context Yijia Zuo, 2022-07-16 This book explores the ways in which individuals construct and integrate self positions in a transcultural context by adopting a pluralist theoretical and methodological approach that includes both Western post modern viewpoints and ancient Chinese philosophical ideas The book starts with stories of two second generation Chinese young people and their mothers life experiences in the UK which can be seen as an epitome of individuals living in the modern and complex environment of the time Using social constructionist viewpoints it then analyzes the overt interaction between the individual and outside environment and interprets the recessive interaction such as the individual s psychological response to the outside environment which might be unknown to him or herself using the psychodynamic approach based on object relations theory and other psychoanalytic concepts such as defense mechanisms The book uses Confucian philosophy to show how Chinese people think about the relation between other people and themselves and also integrates different and even opposing theories and viewpoints from Taoist philosophy This creative book provides a theoretical and practical approach to explore the conception of self and the way in which individuals construct their self positions in a complex context Combining cutting edge Western psycho social viewpoints and ancient Chinese philosophy it appeals to readers interested in self psycho social approaches psychoanalytic viewpoints and Chinese philosophy

A Psychoanalytic Approach to Smoking Cessation Fung Ko, 2023-12-18 A Psychoanalytic Approach to Smoking Cessation The Cigarette as a Transitional Object provides an accessible understanding to the unconscious motive behind smoking addiction using Winnicott s concept of the transitional object The book is divided thematically into six parts Ko begins by outlining the conscious motives for smoking from a psychological perspective and looks at commercial research conducted by the tobacco industry before using psychoanalytically informed cross disciplinary literature to assess the unconscious motives for smoking She expertly introduces Winnicott s view on smoking addiction using his concept of the transitional object and highlights the power of the Free Association Narrative Interview method in accessing the unconscious and embedded emotional experiences Using clinical examples she illustrates the benefits of this method as a tool to elicit free associations from research respondents She details the parallels between the individual respondents smoking experience as well as their relationship with cigarettes and the seven qualities of transitional objects outlined by Winnicott in his 1953 landmark paper Ko concludes by emphasising the significance and implications of this thesis to smokers and public health policy as well as the smoking cessation approach and proposed directions for future research This book is an essential resource for psychoanalysts and psychotherapists working in smoking cessation organisations as well as those working in addiction services

Discourse and Identity Bethan Benwell, 2006-03-15 Identity is a central organizing feature of our social world Across the social sciences and humanities it is increasingly treated as something that is actively and publicly accomplished in discourse This book defines identity in its broadest sense in terms of how people display who they are to each other Each chapter examines a different discursive environment in which people do identity work everyday conversation institutional settings narrative and stories commodified contexts spatial locations and virtual environments The authors describe and demonstrate a range of discourse and interaction analytic methods as they are put to use in the study of identity including performative analyses conversation analysis membership categorization analysis critical discourse analysis narrative analysis positioning theory discursive psychology and politeness theory The book aims to give readers a clear sense of the coherence or otherwise of these different approaches the practical steps taken in analysis and their situation within broader critical debates Through the use of detailed and original identity case studies in a variety of spoken and written texts in order the book offers a practical and accessible insight into what the discursive accomplishment of identity actually looks like and how to go about analyzing it
