T Douglas S. Tung and Teresa K. Tung,Douglas S. Tung,2010-03 He who knows not the stratagems is respectable but he who plays no stratagems in spite of knowing them deserves more respect In 36 Stratagems Plus authors Douglas S Tung and Teresa K Tung provide a unique collection of ancient Chinese tactics that describe some of the cunning and subtle stratagems a strategic plan that contains a trap or a ruse for the enemy Many of these stratagems had their origins in events that occurred during the Warring States Period 475 221 BC and the Three Kingdoms Period 220 280 in China This collection includes sixty stratagems that illustrate the enlightened exploitation of strategic power For each stratagem the Tungs present an eclectic discussion of its theme the classic Chinese case supplemented by two international cases to illustrate the use of these strategic acts by other nationalities They then trace its source which is usually the exploit of some of the Chinese generals statesmen and ordinary people The source may be from The Art of War 36 Stratagems Plus demonstrates that it is not the quantity of stratagems that matter but rather the way in which they are deployed

The Nitrian Principality: The Beginnings of Medieval Slovakia Ján Steinhübel,2020-12-15 How and when a west Slavic principality centred on Nitra originated in the middle Danube is a key question of medieval East Central Europe In this book J n Steinhübel reconstructs the origins history and expansion of this Nitrian Principality Based on contemporary sources and extensive historical and archaeological literature he traces the development of the land for 640 years 470 1110 The book illuminates Nitrian development since the decline of the Avars its short period of independence in 9th century and later its incorporation to Great Moravia and Hungary respectively It argues that Nitrian Principality laid the national territorial and historical foundations of Slovakia

Russian 'Hybrid Warfare' and the Annexation of Crimea Kent DeBenedictis,2021-11-04 Western academics politicians and military leaders alike have labelled Russia's actions in Crimea and its follow on operations in Eastern Ukraine as a new form of Hybrid Warfare In this book Kent DeBenedictis argues that despite these claims the 2014 Crimean operation is more accurately to be seen as the Russian Federation's modern application of historic Soviet political warfare practices the overt and covert informational political and military tools used to influence the actions of foreign governments and foreign populations DeBenedictis links the use of Soviet practices such as the use of propaganda disinformation front organizations and forged political processes in the Crimea in 2014 to the Warsaw Pact invasion of Czechoslovakia in 1968 the Prague Spring and the earliest stages of the invasion of Afghanistan in 1979 Through an in depth case study analysis of these conflicts featuring original interviews government documents and Russian and Ukrainian sources this book demonstrates that the operation which inspired discussions about Russian Hybrid Warfare is in fact the modern adaptation of Soviet political warfare tools and not the invention of a new type of warfare

Communities in Transition: Protected Nature and Local People in Eastern and Central Europe Dr

Saska Petrova, 2014-06-28 The role of local people in contemporary nature conservation practices is often poorly understood or neglected. This book therefore examines questions of local participation at the nature-society nexus within national parks in the transitional context of Central and Eastern Europe (CEE). The post-1990 reconfiguration of conservation paradigms in this part of the world has reopened various age-old debates about the protection and administration of natural heritage. Further complicating the situation has been the introduction of market-based principles which has embedded the entire process in broader dynamics of neoliberalization and the capitalist space economy. Providing an integrated perspective on why, how and for whom nature conservation practices have been implemented in CEE, this book sheds further light upon the mechanisms through which such practices both redefine and are affected by the everyday life of people living in national parks. Offering a critical global review of the environmental motivations and power interests behind the creation of national parks, as well as a typology of the relations between local people and the dynamics of nature protection in them, this work challenges the dichotomy between developed and developing countries that pervades much of the academic literature on nature protection. Author Saska Petrova highlights the lessons that can be learnt by applying the experiences of local community participation in environmental management in CEE to other locations undergoing major systemic change in their environmental governance practices, such as the low-carbon transition that is currently unfolding at a global scale.
