Dunciad Minor:

Dunciad Minor Alec Derwent Hope, 1970 At Home in Time Patrick Deane, 1994-09-13 The presence of these values Deane contends is not a curiosity but part of a vital and discernible tradition of modern neo Augustanism that has been previously overlooked By tracing these writers common interest in Horace John Dryden and Samuel Johnson he uncovers important links between seemingly diverse modern poets Deane challenges the whole interpretation of literary modernism which has traditionally linked the modern poets to the Romantics and seen both as anti Augustan Deane concludes that these modern poets share a ready and pragmatic acceptance of linear time within which all acts of artistic and social creativity must take place a crucial factor in both the form and substance of their writings That art language and society are inseparable under such conditions was a bracing thought for the young Auden but a potentially disturbing one for more recent poets

The Cambridge Introduction to Eighteenth-Century Poetry John Sitter, 2011-10-06 For readers daunted by the formal structures and rhetorical sophistication of eighteenth century English poetry this introduction by John Sitter brings the techniques and the major poets of the period 1700 1785 triumphantly to life Sitter begins by offering a guide to poetic forms ranging from heroic couplets to blank verse then demonstrates how skilfully male and female poets of the period used them as vehicles for imaginative experience feelings and ideas He then provides detailed analyses of individual works by poets from Finch Swift and Pope to Gray Cowper and Barbauld An approachable introduction to English poetry and major poets of the eighteenth century this book provides a grounding in poetic analysis useful to students and general readers of literature

Dunciad Minor Alec Derwent Hope, 1970 Backgazing: Reverse Time in Modernist Culture Paul Giles, 2019-02-14 This volume trace ways in which time is represented in reverse forms throughout modernist culture from the beginning of the twentieth century until the decade after World War II Though modernism is often associated with revolutionary or futurist directions this book argues instead that a retrograde dimension is embedded within it By juxtaposing the literature of Europe and North America with that of Australia and New Zealand it suggests how this antipodean context serves to defamiliarize and reconceptualize normative modernist understandings of temporal progression Backgazing thus moves beyond the treatment of a specific geographical periphery as another margin on the expanding field of New Modernist Studies Instead it offers a systematic investigation of the transformative effect of retrograde dimensions on our understanding of canonical modernist texts The title backgazing is taken from Australian poet Robert G Fitzgerald s 1938 poem Essay on Memory and it epitomizes how the cultural history of modernism can be restructured according to a radically different discursive map Backgazing intellectually reconfigures US and European modernism within a planetary orbit in which the literature of Australia and the Southern Hemisphere far from being merely an annexed margin can be seen substantively to change the directional compass of modernism more generally By reading canonical modernists such as James Joyce and T S Eliot alongside marginalized writers such as Nancy Cunard and others and relatively neglected authors from Australia and New Zealand this book offers a revisionist cultural history of modernist time one framed by a recognition of how its measurement is modulated across geographical space Contemporary Australian Literature Nicholas Birns, 2015-12-01 Australia has been seen as a land of both punishment and refuge Australian literature has explored these controlling alternatives and vividly rendered the landscape on which they transpire Twentieth century writers left Australia to see the world now Australia's distance no longer provides sanctuary But today the global perspective has arrived with a vengeance In Contemporary Australian Literature A World Not Yet Dead Nicholas Birns tells the story of how novelists poets and critics from Patrick White to Hannah Kent from Alexis Wright to Christos Tsiolkas responded to this condition With rancour concern and idealism modern Australian literature conveys a tragic sense of the past yet an abiding vision of the way forward Birns paints a vivid picture of a rich Australian literary voice one not lost to the churning of global markets but in fact given new life by it Contrary to the despairing of the critics Australian literary identity continues to flourish And as Birns finds it is not one thing but many In this remarkable bold and fearless book Nicholas Birns contests how literary cultures are read how they are constituted and what they stand for In examining the nature of the barriers between public and private utterance and looking outside the absurdity of the rules of genre Birns has produced a redemptive analysis that leaves hope for revivifying a world not yet dead John Kinsella Commonwealth Literary Cultures Giovanna Capone, Claudio Gorlier, Bernard Hickey, 1993 Dunciad minor, 1970 Readings in Contemporary Australian Poetry Igor Maver, 1997 As no literature can claim to be monolithic the essays collected in this book examine the various ways in which different European literary traditions were mediated and blended through individual Australian poets into Australian literature culture In part one the focus is thus on the new or hitherto rather neglected European literary and cultural affiliations in verse written by major Australian poets A D Hope James McAuley and Douglas Stewart Two recent Australian verse anthologies are also examined and contemporary Aboriginal poetry in English contextualized with regard to its hybridization of orality and literacy Part two is dedicated to Slovene migrant poetry produced in Australia It analyzes the work of two major Slovene migrant poets living in Australia Bert Pribac and Joze Zohar Concerning Poetry, 1973 A. D. Hope Joy W. Hooton, 1979 The Scriblerian, 1971 Poet and Critic, 1971 Guide to the Collections National Library of Australia, 1910 *Alexander Pope: pt. 1.
