Dust Bowl Migrants In The American Imagination:

Dust Bowl Migrants in the American Imagination Charles J. Shindo, 1997 No other single work provides such deft analysis of and fresh insight into the works of Dorothea Lange John Steinbeck John Ford and Woody Guthrie in relation to the Dust Bowl migration R Douglas Hurt author of The Dust Bowl Thanks to this fine study the full story of the dialogue between the American people and the most conspicuous victims of the Great Depression stands revealed in all its power and importance Kevin Starr author of Endangered Dreams The Great Depression in California Harry Partch, Hobo Composer S. Andrew Granade, 2014 During the Great Depression Harry Partch rode the railways following the fruit harvest across the country From his experience among hoboes he found what he called a fountainhead of pure musical Americana Although he later wrote immense stage works for instruments of his own creation he is still regularly called a hobo composer for the compositions that grew out of this period of his life Yet few have questioned the label's impact on his musical output compositional life and reception Focusing on Partch the person alongside the cultural icon he represented this study examines Partch's The Human Tradition in California Clark Davis, David Igler, 2002-08 With a land mass one and half times larger than the United Kingdom a population of more than thirty million and an economy that would rank sixth among world nations the history of the state of California demands a closer look The Human Tradition in California captures the region's rich history and diversity taking readers into the daily lives of ordinary Californians at key moments in time These brief biographies show how individual people and communities have influenced the broad social cultural political and economic forces that have shaped California history from the pre mission period through the late twentieth century In personalizing California's history this engaging new book brings the Golden State to life About the Editors Clark Davis has written extensively about California and its colorful history His work has appeared in the Los Angeles Times and Pacific Historical Review He is a professor of history at California State University Fullerton David Igler is a long time historian of California history and culture He has presented for the Western Historical Association the Pacific Coast Branch of the American Historical Association and the California Studies Association Dr Igler is professor of history at the University of Utah

Migrant Citizenship Verónica Martínez-Matsuda, 2020-05-29 An examination of the Farm Security Administration's migrant camp system and the people it served Today's concern for the quality of the produce on our plates has done little to guarantee U S farmworkers the necessary protections of sanitary housing medical attention and fair labor standards The political discourse on farmworkers rights is dominated by the view that migrant workers are not entitled to better protections because they are noncitizens as either immigrants or transients Between 1935 and 1946 however the Farm Security Administration FSA intervened dramatically on behalf of migrant families to expand the principles of American democracy advance migrants civil rights and make farmworkers visible beyond their economic role as temporary laborers In more than one hundred labor camps across the country migrant families successfully worked with FSA officials to challenge their exclusion from the basic rights afforded by the New Deal In Migrant Citizenship Verónica Martínez Matsuda examines the history of the FSA's Migratory Labor Camp Program and its role in the lives of diverse farmworker families across the United States describing how the camps provided migrants sanitary housing full on site medical service a nursery school program primary education home demonstration instruction food for a healthy diet recreational programming and lessons in participatory democracy through self governing councils In these ways she argues the camps functioned as more than just labor centers aimed at improving agribusiness efficiency Instead they represented a profound experiment in democracy seeking to secure migrant farmworkers full political and social participation in the United States In recounting this chapter in the FSA's history Migrant Citizenship provides insights into public policy concerning migrant workers federal intervention in poor people's lives and workers cross racial movements for social justice and offers a precedent for those seeking to combat the precarity in farm labor relations today
