Dustbin Of History:

The Dustbin of History Greil Marcus, 1995 How much history can be communicated by pressure on a guitar string Robert Palmer wondered in Deep Blues Greil Marcus answers here more than we will ever know It is the history in the riff in the movie or novel or photograph in the actor's pose or critic's posturing in short the history in cultural happenstance that Marcus reveals here exposing along the way the distortions and denials that keep us oblivious if not immune to its lessons Whether writing about the Beat Generation or Umberto Eco Picasso's Guernica or the massacre in Tiananmen Square The Manchurian Candidate or John Wayne's acting Eric Ambler's antifascist thrillers or Camille Paglia Marcus uncovers the histories embedded in our cultural moments and acts and shows how through our reading of the truths our culture tells and those it twists and conceals we situate ourselves in that history and in the world Rarely has a history lesson been so exhilarating With the startling insights and electric style that have made him our foremost writer on American music Marcus brings back to life the cultural events that have defined us and our time the social milieu in which they took place and the individuals engaged in them As he does so we see that these cultural instances as lofty as The Book of J as humble as a TV movie about Jan and Dean as fleeting as a few words spoken at the height of the Berkeley Free Speech Movement as enduring as a Paleolithic painting often have more to tell us than the master narratives so often passed off as faultless representations of the past Again and again Marcus skewers the widespread assumption that history exists only in the past that it is behind us relegated to the dustbin Here we see instead that history is very much with us being made and unmade every day and unless we recognize it our future will be as cramped and impoverished as our present sense of the past
