Many Minds, One Heart Wesley C. Hogan, 2013-01-22 How did the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee break open the caste system in the American South between 1960 and 1965 In this innovative study Wesley Hogan explores what SNCC accomplished and more important how it fostered significant social change in such a short time She offers new insights into the internal dynamics of SNCC as well as the workings of the larger civil rights and Black Power movement of which it was a part As Hogan chronicles the members of SNCC created some of the civil rights movement's boldest experiments in freedom including the sit ins of 1960 the rejuvenated Freedom Rides of 1961 and grassroots democracy projects in Georgia and Mississippi She highlights several key players including Charles Sherrod Bob Moses and Fannie Lou Hamer as innovators of grassroots activism and democratic practice Breaking new ground Hogan shows how SNCC laid the foundation for the emergence of the New Left and created new definitions of political leadership during the civil rights and Vietnam eras She traces the ways other social movements such as Black Power women's liberation and the antiwar movement adapted practices developed within SNCC to apply to their particular causes Many Minds One Heart ultimately reframes the movement and asks us to look anew at where America stands on justice and equality today

Alien-Nation and Repatriation Patricia Joan Saunders, 2007-12-24 Alien Nation and Repatriation examines the emergence and transformations in representations of national identity in Anglophone Caribbean literary traditions Beginning with the short fiction of C L R James Alfred Mendes and Albert Gomes this study examines the extent to which gender migration and female sexuality frame the earliest representations of Caribbean identity in literature by West Indian authors The study develops chronologically to examine the works of George Lamming Paule Marshall Erna Brodber M Nourbese Philip and Elizabeth Nunez Alien Nation and Repatriation emphasizes the processes of alienation that marginalize women from discourses of citizenship and belonging both of which are integral aspects of nationalist literature This text also argues that for Caribbean women writers engaged in discourses on citizenship return is not focused on reclaiming the nation state Instead Saunders argues that closer examinations of discourses on Caribbean identity reveal the ways in which the female body has been disciplined through form and content into silence in colonial and post colonial Caribbean literary traditions The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1991 James Baldwin's Turkish Decade Magdalena J.
