The Creative Impulse Dennis J. Sporre,1996 Re-enchanting Art Therapy Lynn Kapitan,2003 Re Enchanting Art Therapy is written for art therapists supervisors students and colleagues in related fields who seek to approach their work as a living artistic practice but struggle to do so in the often toxic work environments where art therapy is most needed Asking What kills creative vitality research uncovered core images that art therapists associate with toxic work and the elements of re enchantment Author Lynn Kapitan relates in stories and images of art therapists how re enchantment is a cycling process that requires an unambivalent relationship with creative power Chapter One uses the myth of the dragon to tell stories of art therapists awakening creative energy in a constantly changing postmodern world Chapter Two explores transformation in the symbol of the begging bowl held out to accept whatever is placed within as the materials for creative renewal Using the research method of collaborative witness Chapter Three offers transformative stories of several disenchanted art therapists who discover their disconnection from the primordial source of their creativity in the imagery of water A community intervention in Chapter Four the Reflective Circle of Peers presents issues and methods that art therapists use to transform their practices In Chapter Five Lynn Kapitan addresses fears and yearning in the toxic work environment where such practices as playing with wolves and painting in the crossroads teach her the values of the threshold space and the fierce hearted embrace of her creativity Re Enchanting Art Therapy challenges art therapists to transform the practice of art therapy with creative vitality Encyclopedia of Portal Technologies and Applications Tatnall, Arthur,2007-04-30

Informatique Spatial Dynamics and Female Development in Victorian Art and Novels Liana F. Piehler, 2003 Spatial dynamics and imagery surface as distinctive and insightful elements for investigating female figures in Victorian art and literature This book explores the concept that space can be a productive and creative realm rather than merely an empty or confining category for personal development Through discussing representative Victorian paintings of the mid to late 1800s as well as novels by women authors Spatial Dynamics and Female Development in Victorian Art and Novels illustrates the ways visual and literary genres utilize space This book sharpens our view of nineteenth century women's perspectives on themselves and recognizes connections between the visual and literary arts Creative Theatre Roy Mitchell, 1969

Rodin's Art the late Albert E. Elsen, Rosalyn Frankel Jamison, 2003-03-13 The late Albert Elsen was the first American scholar to study seriously the work of the French sculptor Auguste Rodin and the person most responsible for a revival of interest in the artist as a modern innovator after years during which the sculpture had been dismissed as so much Victorian bathos After a fortuitous meeting with the financier philanthropist and art collector B Gerald Cantor Elsen helped Cantor to build up a major collection of Rodin's work A large part of this collection consisting of more than 200 pieces was donated to the Stanford Museum by Mr Cantor who died recently In size it is surpassed only by the Musée Rodin in Paris and rivaled only by the collection in Philadelphia In scope the collection is unique in having been carefully selected to present a balanced view of Rodin's work throughout his life Rodin's Art encompasses a lifetime's thoughts on Rodin's career surveying the artist's accomplishments through the detailed discussion of each object in the collection It will begin with essays on the formation of the collection the reception of Rodin's work and his casting techniques The entries that follow are arranged topically and include extensive discussions of Rodin's major projects The Central Liberal Truth Lawrence E. Harrison, 2008-07-08 Which cultural values beliefs and attitudes best promote democracy social justice and prosperity How can we use the forces that shape cultural change such as religion education and political leadership to promote these values in the Third World and for underachieving minorities in the First World In this book Lawrence E Harrison offers intriguing answers to these questions in a valuable follow up to his acclaimed Culture Matters Drawing on a three year research project that explored the cultural values of dozens of nations from Botswana Sweden and India to China Egypt and Chile Harrison offers a provocative look at values around the globe revealing how each nation's culture has propelled or retarded their political and economic progress The book presents 25 factors that operate very differently in cultures prone to progress and those that resist it including one's influence over destiny the importance attached to education the extent to which people identify with and trust others and the role of women in society Harrison pulls no punches and many of his findings are controversial Contradicting the arguments of multiculturalists this book contends that when it comes to promoting human progress some cultures are clearly more effective than others It convincingly shows which values beliefs and attitudes work and how we can foster them Harrison takes up the question that is at the center of politics today Can we self consciously change cultures so
