Why do ethnic groups adopt violent means In the 1990 s ethnicity emerged as the principle source of organized violence around the world Ethnic wars were no longer internal conflicts between substate actors instead they challenged state sovereignty and taxed the international community s ability to respond Efforts to understand ethnic conflict remain divorced from the study of systemic change and the declining authority capacity and legitimacy of weak multiethnic states This work proposes that the phenomenon of ethnic violence must be understood through a multilevel approach and that finding a solution to ethnic violence is possible only if we have a clear understanding of the sources that spark such violence in the first place The Three Images of Ethnic War identifies the causes of ethnic war at three levels of analysis the group the state and the international These are the three images of ethnic war This book places the outbreak of violence within context of the state and the international system in which the violence unfolds Hanlon examines three violent ethnic wars in Yugoslavia Nagorno Karabakh and Iraq Yugoslavia s violent ethnic wars the war over Nagorno Karabakh and the violent conflict between Kurds and Arabs in Iraqi Kurdistan demonstrate that ethnic violence is a complex and multifaceted occurrence Hanlon argues that the numerous reasons why groups adopt violent means can only be understood through a multilevel framework of the three images of ethnic war and the interrelationship among them Doing Your Research Project (3rd Edn.) Bell Judith, 1999

Building Maintenance Processes and Practices Abdul Lateef Olanrewaju, Abdul-Rashid Abdul-Aziz, 2014-11-14 This book is designed to be an inclusive for the best practice approach to building maintenance management where the processes procedures and operational systems meet a high standard of professional and academic competence It offers a different perspective on building maintenance management by presenting the schematic building maintenance value chain model and its implementation in Malaysian university buildings The findings show an improvement to building performance lower maintenance cost building sustainability and increased maintenance service user satisfaction The learning outcomes and summaries provided for each chapter and the extensive use of tables and figures add to the readability of the text Though the book is based on data from Malaysia it is useful for a much wider audience and the informal writing style makes it an interesting reference source This book is valuable for readers who are practitioners professionals and for academic institutions that offer courses in the building field including architecture quantity surveying civil engineering building and facility management property management real estate It will also be of interest to governments and others involved in the construction industry Doing Your Research Project 4/e Judith Bell, 2005-06 An invaluable tool for anyone carrying out a research project We all learn to do research by actually doing it but a great deal of time and effort can be wasted and goodwill dissipated by inadequate preparation This book provides beginner researchers with the tools to do the job to help them avoid some of the pitfalls and time wasting false trails and to establish good research habits It takes researchers from the stage of choosing a topic through to the production of a well planned methodologically sound and well written final report or thesis on time It is written in plain English and makes no assumptions about previous knowledge This new edition of Doing Your Research Project includes Coverage of latest techniques such as grounded theory A new chapter on ethics Increased examples from health studies New referencing library searching and literature review chapters Completely updated references throughout This book serves as a guide to good practice for beginner researchers in any discipline embarking on undergraduate or postgraduate study and for professionals in such fields as social science education and health Preach the Word Myles MacBean, 2019-11-11 How should we help equip the church leaders of Africa today There remains a well documented lack of theologically sound Bible centric preaching in Sub Saharan Africa The majority of sermons are preached by untrained or undertrained church leaders Following a practical theology praxis this book develops a conceptual framework for the evaluation of existing alternative approaches to grassroots preacher training It also proposes broad principles for effective preacher training and offers a practical solution The 20th century had seen the Christian church in Africa grow 36 fold to 360 million This amazing growth is arguably the largest religious change in human history in such a short period It has shifted the focus of Christianity from North to South This rapid growth is debatably considered by some missiologists and theologians to have resulted in an African church a mile wide and an inch deep That is a church of great size but lacking in spiritual depth The rapid growth has led to insufficient numbers of trained leaders being available to oversee their congregations Most leaders are unpaid Untrained or undertrained leaders have an inadequate knowledge of scripture and lack understanding of its interpretation They also lack the skills they need to communicate its truths Even so they preach up to 90% of the sermons in rural Africa Despite a tremendous hunger for training among many of those preachers traditional college based theological education cannot keep up with the demand for trained pastors and preachers in an affordable or culturally appropriate manner An Initiative of the African Christians in Berlin and Brandenburg Vincent Pascal Gucha, 2014-10-27 Thesis M A from the year 2014 in the subject African Studies Miscellaneous University of G ttingen course Intercultural Theology language English abstract This is a qualitative research carried out in a Christian organization known as the African Christian Council of Berlin and Brandenburg RACIBB and it is a product of narrative description and explanation of the life experiences and perceptions of the informants The research has used migration and religion trajectories the two trajectories are deemed appropriate for the study because of the nature of the organization RACIBB It is an organization founded by the people and for the people with African migrant backgrounds and at the same time operates as a faith based organization although not in the manner it serves the people Migratory movement has often resulted into formation of macrostructures according to Adogame macrostructures are the informal social networks developed by the migrants to assist them in adjusting to the migration and settlement e g the informal networks can be family or community ties the community can be religious cultural ethnic and social ties As realised during the study some of these macrostructures are later developed to formal Organizations under the state law of the host country One of the advantages when founded within the perimeters of the law is that the organization is free to implement its activities and can apply for financial assistance from any funding institution Most of the migrant founded organizations like RACIBB are multi functional by nature depending on the needs of the members hence their functions can be categorised as follows Ethno solidarity Ethno cultural Ethno specific religious and Ethno specific political Diaspora activities Ethno solidarity activities aim at addressing social and integration issues among its members for example it provides members with the information about the host country what is expected of them and what they can do to live comfortably in the host society

A Teacher's Guide to Classroom Research David Hopkins,1993 The fourth edition of this bestselling book is a practical guide for teachers who wish to conduct research in their classrooms and for schools that wish to improve their practice Classroom research as described in this book will enable teachers to enhance their own or their colleagues teaching to test the assumptions of educational theory in practice and to implement and evaluate whole school developments The book also explores models of teaching and learning methods for collecting analyzing and reporting data and the ways in which classroom research can be published and linked to the curriculum teaching and staff development

BOOK JACKET Research Methods for Inexperienced Researchers Coreen J. Leacock,2009 Promoting Health Linda Ewles,Ina Simnett,1992 The aim of this book is to provide an easy to read practical guide for all those who practise health promotion in their everyday work The book is designed to be used as a self teaching aid and as a source of material and ideas for course tutors Included in the book are exercises case studies quizzes questionnaires and cartoons to make learning stimulating relevant and enjoyable

The National Language Lydia Nyati-Ramahobo,1999 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2001

Managing Information for Research Elizabeth Orna,Graham Stevens,1995 This book makes up for the omission it is based on experience the experience of the author in working with students who are tackling research for the first time and that of students themselves and it presents the experience by way of examples from real projects Readers have the opportunity of answering questions about their own research and on the basis of their answers they are helped in making decisions that will help them to cope successfully with the key problems and to deliver an end product that does justice to their efforts
