Doing Justice:

Doing Justice Dennis A. Jacobsen, 2017-05-01 Doing Justice introduces readers to congregation based community organizing rooted in the day to day struggles and hopes of urban ministry It draws from the author's decades long career of personal experience in community organizing ministries Illustrated with examples from the experience of community organizers Doing Justice weaves theological and biblical warrants for community organizing into concrete strategies for achieving justice in the public arena It offers sound treatment of fundamental organizing principles like power self interest and agitation and suggests ways to build and sustain an organization relate to media and corporations and strengthen ministries and empower lay leaders The second edition includes forewords by veteran pastor activists Bill Wylie Kellermann and Grant Stevensen and a new preface that notes recent changes in organizing describes needed new directions and connections and discusses the significance of new movements such as Black Lives Matter Also new is Stevensen's running conversation with Jacobsen drawing readers into deeper engagement with organizing practices Designed for use by congregations and church leaders as well as by ministerial students Doing Justice will open new vistas for community action in support of the poor the disadvantaged and the disenfranchised of our society Doing Justice Better David J.

Cornwell, 2007-08-21 An uncompromising appraisal of the unique penal crisis affecting Britain and other Western style democracies Doing Justice Preet Bharara, 2020-01-21 A New York Times Bestseller An important overview of the way our justice system works and why the rule of law is essential to our survival as a society from the one time federal prosecutor for the Southern District of New York and host of the Doing Justice podcast Preet Bharara has spent much of his life examining our legal system pushing to make it better and prosecuting those looking to subvert it Bharara believes in our system and knows it must be protected but to do so he argues we must also acknowledge and allow for flaws both in our justice system and in human nature Bharara uses the many illustrative anecdotes and case histories from his storied formidable career the successes as well as the failures to shed light on the realities of the legal system and the consequences of taking action Inspiring and inspiringly written Doing Justice gives us hope that rational and objective fact based thinking combined with compassion can help us achieve truth and justice in our daily lives Sometimes poignant and sometimes controversial Bharara's expose is a thought provoking entertaining book about the need to find the humanity in our legal system as well as in our society Doing Justice, Doing Gender Susan Ehrlich Martin, Nancy C. Jurik, 2006-10-27 Martin and Jurik provide a clear body of evidence illuminating the gendered nature of criminal justice occupations Of the multitude of feminist works on this topic this is one of the best analyses available CRIMINAL JUSTICE REVIEW Doing Justice Doing Gender Women in Legal and Criminal Justice Occupations is a highly readable sociologically grounded analysis of women working in traditionally male dominant justice occupations of law policing and corrections This Second Edition represents not only a thorough update of research on women in these fields but a careful reconsideration of changes in justice organizations and occupations and their impact on women's justice work roles over the past 40 years New to the Second Edition Introduces a wider range of workplace diversity and experiences An expanded sociological theoretical framework grasps the interplay of gender race ethnicity and sexual orientation in understanding workplace identities and inequities Provides a better understanding of the centrality of gender issues to understanding the legal and criminal justice system in general This edition further connects women's work experiences to social trends and consequent changes in legal system and in criminal justice agencies Offers a more international perspective More material is included on women lawyers police and correctional officers in countries outside the U S Intended Audience This is an excellent supplemental text for advanced undergraduate and graduate courses such as Gender Women and Work Sociology of Work and Occupations Women and the Criminal Justice System and Gender Justice in the departments of Sociology Criminal Justice Women's Studies and Social Work

Doing Justice, Preventing Crime Michael Tonry, 2020-06-01 Punishment policies and practices in the United States today are unprincipled chaotic and much too often unjust The financial costs are enormous The moral cost is greater countless individual injustices mass incarceration the world's highest imprisonment rate extreme disparities especially affecting members of racial and ethnic minority groups high rates of wrongful conviction assembly line case processing and a general absence of respectful consideration of offenders interests circumstances and needs In Doing Justice Preventing Crime Michael Tonry lays normative and empirical foundations for building new more just and more effective systems of sentencing and punishment in the twenty first century The overriding goals are to treat people convicted of crimes justly fairly and even handedly to take sympathetic account of the circumstances of people's lives and to punish no one more severely than he or she deserves Drawing on philosophy and punishment theory this book explains the structural changes needed to uphold the rule of law and its requirement that the human dignity of every person be respected In clear and engaging prose Michael Tonry surveys what is known about the deterrent incapacitative and rehabilitative effects of punishment and explains what needs to be done to move from an ignoble present to a better future
