Rethinking Environmentalism Sharachandra Lele, Eduardo S. Brondizio, John Byrne, Georgina M. Mace, Joan Martinez-Alier, 2018-10-09 A multidisciplinary examination of alternative framings of environmental problems with using examples from forest water energy and urban sectors Does being an environmentalist mean caring about wild nature Or is environmentalism synonymous with concern for future human well being or about a fair apportionment of access to the earth's resources and a fair sharing of pollution burdens Environmental problems are undoubtedly one of the most salient public issues of our time yet environmental scholarship and action is marked by a fragmentation of ideas and approaches because of the multiple ways in which these environmental problems are framed Diverse framings prioritize different values and explain problems in various ways thereby suggesting different solutions Are more inclusive framings possible Will this enable more socially relevant impactful research and more concerted action and practice This book takes a multidisciplinary look at these questions using examples from forest water energy and urban sectors It explores how different forms of environmentalism are shaped by different normative and theoretical positions and attempts to bridge these divides Individual perspectives are complemented by comprehensive syntheses of the differing framings in each sector By self reflectively exploring how researchers study and mobilize evidence about environmental problems the book opens up the possibility of alternative framings to advance collaborative and integrated understanding of environmental problems and sustainability challenges

Essentials of Health Justice: Law, Policy, and Structural Change Elizabeth Tobin-Tyler, Joel B. Teitelbaum, 2022-06-17

Building and expanding upon the prior edition of Essentials of Health Justice the new second edition of this unparalleled text explores the historical structural and legal underpinnings of racial ethnic gender based and ableist inequities in health and provides a framework for students to consider how and why health inequity is tied to the ways that laws are structured and enforced Additionally it offers analysis of potential solutions and posits how law may be used as a tool to remedy health injustice Written for a wide interdisciplinary audience of students and scholars in public health medicine and law as well as other health professions this accessible text discusses both the systems and policies that influence health and explores opportunities to advocate for legal and policy change by public health practitioners and policymakers physicians health care professionals lawyers and lay people

Climate Chaos John Hans Gilderbloom, 2024-12-15 Featuring insights from influential figures like Pope Francis and Albert Gore alongside contributions from over thirty esteemed authors Climate Chaos Killing People Places and the Planet charts a transformative path from despair to optimism Grounded in rigorous scientific research the book unflinchingly exposes the links between industries such as coal fossil fuels chemical factories liquor tobacco and others and their role in accelerating global warming and mass displacement It courageously challenges climate change denialism advocating for transparency and accountability in addressing these urgent challenges In a time of profound despair this book unites faith and science to forge a path towards a sustainable and livable future Its impact resonates beyond the page inspiring a forthcoming PBS film

Place Matters Peter Dreier, John H. Mollenkopf, Todd Swanstrom, 2001 The central thesis of Place Matters is that economic segregation between rich and poor and the growing sprawl of American cities and suburbs are not solely the result of individual choices in free markets Rather these problems have been powerfully shaped by short sighted government policies

Environmental Policy in the 1990s Norman J. Vig, Michael E. Kraft, 1997 This thought provoking collection of essays puts 25 years of environmental policy development in context by examining the current institutional framework for making policy and how it has emerged the role of environmentalism and public opinion in shaping policy the search for more efficient policy solutions and the impact of global environmental imperatives This edition covers the new heightened role of the states in making policy environmental justice and the greening of U S businesses among other topics The book also provides an in depth analysis of the 104th Congress on environmental policies and reviews the Clinton administration's environmental record and efforts to reform the
