Dying Hard:

Dying Hard Stevenson Mukoro, 2013-08-22 A high class impossible theft and a death in a dark alley prompts Susan Dax into the un seemingly seedy realm of Frances gangland world While seeking answers vis vis why a stranger died in her arms and where she could find a stolen ornament of unparalleled beauty the lovely billionaire freelance trouble shooter and her unmatched talented partner Seymour Krakauer must unravel the mystery with the aid of a new colleague Their undertaking plunges them into strange currents of criminal dealings and sets them on a startling conflict against very lethal opponents In a quest to find out the mastermind behind the theft of the famous jewel they find themselves bumping heads with the mob heads of Pariss organized criminal underworld Shadowing a trail of danger that eventually involves those they care about Susan and Seymour fight against a pair of horrifying villains who hold a lever which compels her obedience A hold that cannot be broken or won without battling and overcoming terrible ordeals Ordeals that carries the story to a sustained and seething climax

Culture, Communication, and National Identity Richard Collins, 1990-01-01 There can be no political sovereignty without culture sovereignty So argued the CBC in 1985 in its evidence to the Caplan Sauvageau Task Force on Broadcasting Policy Richard Collins challenges this assumption He argues in this study of nationalism and Canadian television policy that Canada s political sovereignty depends much less on Canadian content in television than has generally been accepted His analysis focuses on television drama at the centre of television policy in the 1980s Collins questions the conventional image of Canada as a weak national entity undermined by its population s predilection for foreign television Rather he argues Canada is held together not by a shared repertoire of symbols a national culture but by other social forces notably political institutions Collins maintains that important advantages actually and potentially flow from Canada s wear national symbolic culture Rethinking the relationships between television and society in Canada may yield a more successful broadcasting policy more popular television programming and a better understanding of the links between culture and the body politic As the European Community moves closer to political unity the Canadian case may become more relevant to Europe which Collins suggests already fears the Canadianization of its television He maintains that a European multilingual society without a shared culture or common European audio visual sphere and with viewers watching foreign television can survive successfully as a political entity just as Canada has

I Must Remember This George Youngblood, 2006-08 Joe George and Richard Youngblood three white brothers growing up in the rural South during the Great Depression live in a world of paradoxes love and hate doubt and faith and sadness and humor In his poignant memoir I Must Remember This A Southern White Boy s Memories of the Great Depression Jim Crow and World War II author George Youngblood shares stories about everything from the brothers first awareness of death sex and race to the truth about Santa Claus They smoke rabbit tobacco tremble at ghost and snake stories watch haircuts for excitement get baptized and gawk at locomotives and alligators Hard times draw the Youngblood family closer to their father s black farm workers With one family in particular they form a symbiotic relationship in the hostile world of poverty disease and segregation I Must Remember This is Youngblood s family story as they hope work and laugh with little cause and succeed with basic honesty respect and an astounding sense of humor A Lexicon Abridged from Liddell and Scott's Greek-English Lexicon
