

Why do Some people die with their eyes open?

Medical Reason: The opening of the eyes before death is often due to decreased muscle tone and relaxation of the muscles that control eyelid movement as the body approaches the end of life.

Myth: If Eyes Are Open, Death is Not Yet Imminent

Fact: The state of the eyes does not accurately predict the timing of death, as eyes may open or close for various reasons unrelated to the exact time of death.

Cultural Belief: In some cultures, open eyes at death might be interpreted as a sign of unfinished business or a spiritual presence, reflecting the belief in a connection between the physical and spiritual realms.
