The Mother in Psychoanalysis and Beyond Rosalind Mayo, Christina Moutsou, 2016-10-04 The question of what it means to be a mother is a very contentious topic in psychoanalysis and in wider society The Mother in Psychoanalysis and Beyond explores our relationship to the maternal through psychoanalysis philosophy art and political and gender studies Over two years a group of psychotherapists and members of the public met at the Philadelphia Association for a series of seminars on the Maternal In the discussions that followed a chasm opened up slowly and painfully between the idealised longings and fantasies we all share and the realities of maternal experiences here were met the great silences of love loss longing memories desire hatred and ambivalence This book is the result of this bringing together in conversation and reflections of what so often seems unsayable about the Mother It examines how issues of personal and gender identity are shaped by the ideals of separation from the mother the fears and anxiety of merging with the mother and how this has often led in psychoanalysis and society to holding mothers responsible for a variety of personal and social ills and problems in which maternal vulnerability is denied and silenced There are two main themes running throughout the book Matricide and Maternal Subjectivity On the theme of matricide several contributors discuss the ways in which the discourse and narratives of the Mother have been silenced on a sociocultural level and within psychoanalysis and philosophy in favour of discourses that promote independence autonomy power and the avoidance and denial of our fundamental helplessness and vulnerability On the theme of maternal subjectivity several chapters look at the actual experience of mothering and or our relationship to our mother to highlight the ways in which the maternal is intimately connected with human subjectivity The Mother in Psychoanalysis and Beyond provides new and provocative thinking about the maternal and its place in various contemporary discourses It will appeal to psychoanalysts psychotherapists and psychologists of different schools scholars and advanced students of art gender studies politics and philosophy as well as anyone interested in maternity studies and the relationship between the maternal and human subjectivity

Mothers, Mothering, and COVID-19 Fiona J Green, Andrea O'Reilly, 2021-02-28 There has been little public discussion on the devastating impact of Covid 19 on mothers or a public acknowledgement that mothering is frontline work in this pandemic This collection of 45 chapters and with 70 contributors is the first to explore the impact of the pandemic on mothers care and wage labour in the context of employment schooling communities families and the relationships of parents and children With a global perspective and from the standpoint of single partnered queer racialized Indigenous economically disadvantaged disabled and birthing mothers the volume examines the increasing complexity and demands of childcare domestic labour elder care and home schooling under the pandemic protocols the intricacies and difficulties of performing wage labour at home the impact of the pandemic on mothers employment and the strategies mothers have used to manage the competing demands of care and wage labour under COVID 19 By way of creative art poetry photography and creative writing along with scholarly research the collection seeks to make visible what has been invisibilized and render audible what has been silenced the care and crisis of motherwork through and after the COVID 19 pandemic
