Surveillance Education Nolan Higdon, Allison Butler, 2024-08-02 Surveillance Education explores the pervasive use of digital surveillance technologies in schools and assesses its pernicious effects on students Recognizing that the use of digital technologies will persist the authors instead offer practical ways to ameliorate their impact In our era of surveillance capitalism digital media technologies are ever more intertwined into the educational process Schools are presented with digital technologies as tools of convenience for gathering and grading student work as tools of support to foster a more equitable learning environment and as tools of safety for predicting or preventing violence or monitoring mental emotional and physical health Despite a dearth of evidence to confirm their effectiveness digital data collection and tracking is often presented as a way to improve educational outcomes and safety This book challenges these fallacious assumptions and argues that the use of digital media technologies has caused great harm to students by subjecting them to oppressive levels of surveillance impinging upon their right to privacy and harvesting their personal data on behalf of Big Tech In doing so the authors draw upon interviews from K 12 and higher education students teachers and staff civil rights and technology lawyers and educational technological programmers The authors also provide practical guidance for teachers administrators students and their families seeking to identify and combat surveillance in education This urgent eye opening book will be of interest to students and educators with interests in critical media literacy and pedagogy and the sociology of technology and education

Pam Kowolski is a Monster! Sarah Langan, 2025-05-21 If Janet Chow hadn't been such a jerk to everyone at Sewanhaka High they might have voted her Most Likely to Succeed Twenty plus years later life hasn't turned out how Janet expected She's rudderless her career in journalism crashed burned and buried How did it come to this But then one day Janet recognizes her mortal enemy from high school Pam Kowolski Somehow Pam's become America's manic pixie sweetheart an online psychic predicting the end of the world Pam's rich hawt and famous meanwhile Janet looks middle aged How did this happen How did Pam Kowolski steal Janet's life Janet knows the truth there's no way a dumb ass like Pam earned her success She's lying about her powers The world isn't ending Pam's a FRAUD It's time for Janet to wake up and claim what's hers by writing an article that TAKES PAM DOWN But to reveal Pam she's got to dig deep into their shared past There's bad stuff back there scary stuff and the more Janet learns the more she worries what if Pam Kowolski is right A high school reunion is the end of the world in this slap happy upbeat carnival ride into the Apocalypse Grady Hendrix author of Witchcraft for Wayward Girls simply genius in the way it explores the changeable nature of memory and whether it's possible to escape a traumatic past No one writes defiant damaged characters like Sarah Langan no matter how they try to hide it you see every bruise Alma Katsu author of The Fervor Creepy and manic Langan's mixed media novella will grip you pull you in and take you right to the center of its beating bloody heart Kate Maruyama author of Bleak Houses The Collective and Harrowgate totally unhinged absurdly delightful a ripper of a novella Lindy Ryan author of Another Fine Mess I couldn't have loved this more Funny smart disturbing creepy The novella that 2025 deserves Paul Tremblay author of Horror Movie Collier's, 1923

Panic Now? Ira Allen, 2024-06-11 When was the best time to panic about the varying crises facing humanity Twenty years ago But the next best time Now In line with other considerations of what we have come to call the Anthropocene in

Panic Now Tools for Humanizing Ira J Allen takes the reader on a journey through difficult feelings about the various crises facing humanity and from there to new ways of facing impending dread with a sense of empowerment The interrelated threats of climate collapse an artificial intelligence revolution a sixth mass extinction a novel chemical crisis and more are all brought to us by what Allen describes as CaCaCo the carbon capitalism colonialism assemblage After suggesting that it is absolutely time to panic he asks how do we manage to panic productively Admitting there is no one script for everyone to follow the author traces how we might adopt attitudes and practices that allow us to move through this liminal space between fear and action collectively This book is a master class in how to create better more humanizing outcomes by confronting the panic that goes along with the realization that the world as we know it is ending Rather than remaining mentally emotionally imaginatively and practically stuck in this historical condition Allen invites us to a very particular action oriented mode of panic which can indeed incite our imaginations to move from panic to empowerment Educational Times
