Caesarea Maritima:

Caesarea Maritima Avner Raban, Kenneth G. Holum, 2023-09-29 This deluxe volume on Caesarea climaxing new excavations in 1992 95 discusses comprehensively a famous ancient city's archaeology history and culture New discoveries include the amphitheater and royal palace temple dedicated to Roma and Augustus and the spectacular artificial harbor explored under water

Religious Rivalries and the Struggle for Success in Caesarea Maritima Terence L. Donaldson, 2000-05-11 We know how the story of the Roman Empire ended with the triumph of Christianity and the eventual Christianization of the Roman Mediterranean But how would religious life have appeared to an observer at a time when the conversion of the emperor was only a Christian pipe dream And how would it have appeared in one particular city rather than in the Roman Empire as a whole This volume takes a detailed look at the religious dimension of life in one particular Roman city Caesarea Maritima on the Mediterranean coast of Judea Caesarea was marked by a complex religious identity from the outset Over time other religious groups including Christianity Mithraism and Samaritanism found a home in the city where they jostled with each other and with those already present for position influence and the means of survival Written by a team of seasoned scholars and promising newcomers this book brings a new perspective to the study of religion in antiquity Along with the deliberate goal to understand religion as an urban phenomenon Religious Rivalries and the Struggle for Success in Caesarea Maritima studies religious groups as part of the dynamic process of social interaction spanning a spectrum from coexistence through competition and rivalry to open conflict The cumulative result is a fresh and fascinating look at one of antiquity's most interesting cities

Herod's Judaea Samuel Rocca, 2008 Samuel Rocca analyzes the Herodian society The most important facet of his analysis is the relationship between Herod as ruler and the Jewish subjects over whom he ruled The author contends that Herod though a Jewish ruler regarded both Alexander the Great the embodiment of the Hellenistic ruler and Augustus as ideal models who were worthy of imitation In fact Herod pushed Judaea towards major Hellenization albeit with many elements more akin to Rome The author's research therefore is not a biographical study of King Herod Instead it deals with Herod as the head of Jewish society in Judaea It is first and foremost a study of Herodian society Thus the author analyzes the Herodian ideology of rule the court the army the administration the economy the ruling political bodies the city as microcosm the religion and the burial customs Book Jacket

Jesus and His World John J. Rousseau, Designed for teachers students and general readers this book offers reliable and up to date information about important sites persons customs and other facts of life that are important for understanding Jesus and his cultural setting The 108 entries are arranged alphabetically for easy reference Also includes tables charts glossary bibliography indexes and more

Archaeological Excavations at Caesarea Maritima: The objects Joseph Patrich, 2008 University of Haifa's excavations at Caesarea

Maritima in the years 1993 1998 and 2000 2001 presents the small finds Specialist reports focus on pottery oil lamps clay objects stone objects stone vessels glass vessels jewelry and metal objects Altogether 2858 objects are included in the various corpora most of them are of the Hellenistic Roman and Byzantine periods The Harbours of Caesarea

Maritima: The site and the excavations, 1989 Studies in the Archaeology and History of Caesarea Maritima Joseph Patrich, 2011-09-23 The book well illustrated presents in a wider historical cultural context the results of the archaeological explorations 1990 s to early 2000 s at Caesarea Maritima the provincial capital of Roman Judaea Palaestina where Jews Pagans Christians and Samaritans lived side by side The Archaeology of Ancient Judea and Palestine Ariel Lewin, 2005

The regions that compose the current state of Israel and the emerging state of Palestine have yielded a wealth of fascinating archaeological evidence from the Dead Sea Scrolls found in a cave in 1947 by a Bedouin searching for a lost sheep to the remains of Roman camps and King Herod s luxurious palaces at the besieged city of Masada The authors begin with introductions to the complicated and turbulent history of the region in which a series of invaders including Babylonians Assyrians Persians and Macedonians conquered and ruled over its people The long reign of the Romans in the area is given particular attention a reign that produced the infamous client rulers Herod the Great and Pontius Pilate as well as two Jewish revolts against their Roman overlords both of which met with brutal suppression Lewin also analyzes eighteen ancient city sites including the familiar such as Jerusalem and Bethlehem and the less well known such as Herodion with its extravagant palace fortress and Scythopolis with its Roman temples and baths This book provides an enlightening overview of a region that continues to capture the attention of the world Fountains of Wisdom Gerbern S. Oegema, Loren T.

Stuckenbruck, Henry W. Morisada Rietz, 2022-01-27 Leading international contributors on biblical texts including the New Testament and the Dead Sea Scrolls intersect with the work of James H Charlesworth and examine Charlesworth s vast contribution to the field of biblical studies honoring the work of one of the most significant biblical scholars of his generation Divided into five sections this volume begins with a section on the Hebrew Bible and the New Testament texts with particular focus on the Gospel of John and Jesus studies The contexts of these texts are considered with a focus on the Greco Roman and Jewish worlds and the varying intersections between texts and the worlds that created them The contributors then focus on the most significant body of Charlesworth s work the apocrypha pseudepigrapha and the Dead Sea Scrolls and the journey concludes with an assessment of the history of scholarship on the core areas addressed across the book Archaeology in the 'Land of Tells and Ruins' Bart Wagemakers, 2014-02-28 Recently a travel account and 700 photographs came to light by the hand of Leo Boer a former student of the cole Biblique et Arch ologique Fran aise in Jerusalem who at the age of 26 in 1953 4 visited many archaeological sites in the area of present day Israel and the Palestinian Territories These documents inspired 20 internationally renowned scholars many of whom excavated at the sites they describe to report on what we know today of nine particular sites chosen from the many that Leo Boer visited 60 years ago Jerusalem Khirbet et Tell i Samaria

Sebaste Tell Balata Shechem Tell es Sultan Jericho Khirbet Qumran Caesarea Megiddo and Bet She'an. Rather than focusing on the history of these sites the contributors describe the history of the archaeological expeditions. Who excavated these sites over the years? What were the specific aims of their campaigns? What techniques and methods did they use? How did they interpret these excavations? What finds were most noteworthy? And finally what are the major misconceptions held by the former excavators? Several themes are interwoven amongst the contributions and variously discussed such as identification of biblical sites, regional surveys, underwater archaeology, archaeoethnology, archaeology and politics, archaeology and science and heritage management. This unique collection of images and essays offers to scholars working in the region previously unpublished materials and interpretations as well as new photographs. For students of archaeology, ancient or Biblical history and theology it contains both a detailed archaeological historiography and explores some highly relevant specific themes. Finally the superb quality of Boer's photography provides an unprecedented insight into the archaeological landscape of post-war Palestine for anyone interested in Biblical history and archaeology.

Caesarea Maritima, the Late Periods (700 - 1291 CE) Ya'el D. Arnon, 2008. Large scale excavations in Caesarea Maritima from 1992-98 unearthed thousands of pottery fragments from the early Islamic and Crusader periods and from a complete stratigraphy. This has allowed this massively detailed typology and chronology of ceramics from the site and extremely accurate dating.

Text-Aided Archaeology Barbara J. Little, 1991-12-18. Documents, oral testimony and ethnographic description all play a role in text-aided archaeology which in some broad sense includes all archaeology. This volume explores the relationships among many of these sources and addresses how historical documentation is used in archaeology. Public and official archives, mission and church sources, business and company sources, scholarly institutions, letters, diaries and private papers, literature, transient documents, local sources and opinions and maps are among the categories of historical sources used in this collection.

The Greek and Latin Inscriptions of Caesarea Maritima Clayton Miles Lehmann, Kenneth G. Holum, 2000. Caesarea Maritima, a port town on the Mediterranean coast about 40km north of modern Tel Aviv, was founded by King Herod the Great sometime shortly after 22 BC and flourished as a major urban centre during the first six centuries CE. The 411 inscriptions included in this volume represent the finds of a quarter of a century of investigation at the site and bear crucial testimony to the civil and military organization urban construction religion and funerary practices of an important Roman and Byzantine provincial centre In addition the language of the Greek and Latin inscriptions provides important insights into the evolution of those languages as well as information on the demographic ethnic and social make up of the population of Caesarea Maritima in the Roman and Late Antique Periods

Caesarea and the Middle Coast: 1121-2160 Walter Ameling, Hannah M. Cotton, Werner Eck, Benjamin Isaac, Alla Kushnir-Stein, Haggai Misgav, Jonathan Price, Ada Yardeni, 2011-09-29 The second volume of the Corpus Inscriptionum Iudaeae Palaestinae covers the inscriptions of Caesarea Maritima and the coastal region of the Middle Coast from Tel Aviv in the south to Haifa in the north from the time of Alexander to the Muslim conquest The approx 1 050 texts comprise all the languages used for inscriptions during this period Greek Latin Hebrew Aramaic Samaritan Syrian and Persian and are arranged according to the principal settlements and their territory The great majority of the texts belongs to Caesarea the capital of the province of Judaea Syria Palaestina No other place in Judaea has produced more Latin inscriptions than this area reflecting the strong Roman influence on the city

The Sculptural Environment of the Roman Near East Yaron Z. Eliav, Elise A. Friedland, Sharon Herbert, 2008 Public sculptures were the mass media of the Roman world They populated urban centers throughout the empire serving as a plastic language that communicated political religious and social messages This book brings together twenty eight experts who otherwise rarely convene text based scholars of the Greco Roman Jewish and Christian realms from the fields of classics history and religion and specialists in the artistic traditions of Greece and Rome as well as art historians and archaeologists Utilizing the full spectrum of ancient sources the book examines the multiple at times even contradictory meanings and functions that statues served within the complex world of the Roman Near East Moreover it situates the discussion of sculpture in the broader context of antiquity in order to reevaluate long held scholarly consensus on such ideas as the essence of Hellenism the culture that emerged from the encounter of Greco Romans with the Near East and the everlasting conflict among paganism Christianity and Judaism
