Calculating People The Spread Of Numeracy In Early America:

A Calculating People Patricia Cline Cohen, 1999 First Published in 2000 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company A Calculating People Patricia C. Cohen, Economic Interpretations of England's State Formation and Its Management to 1850 Gordon Holmes, 2024-10-24 The book is divided into two sections The first half provides a historiography of the literature on state formation from antiquity to the present day In the second Gordon identifies a new theme using the methodologies of economic history the history of economic thought and the history of ideas His interdisciplinary approach demonstrates that the process of state formation is best understood through the prism of science economy and culture The narrative highlights significant events and institutions as markers of change in the Middle Ages and the Early Modern era The core of the book focuses on England s economic culture and its impact on state management University elites in science and Aristotle s philosophy educated literate and numerate professionals for the Royal court They became indispensable for the ever growing complexity of governing England was unique because it embraced statistical thinking and quantitative reasoning at the heart of the English State The Quantifying Spirit in the Eighteenth Century Tore Frangsmyr, J. L. Heilbron, Robin E. Rider, 2023-11-15 Mathematics Education Across Time and Place Thomas O'Shea, 2016-05-19 What is mathematics and what aspects of it should be taught in schools How and to whom should it be taught and how should its understanding be assessed These questions continue to drive curriculum development school organization teaching methods and research agendas No one today doubts that mathematics should be taught in our schools but this was not always so Mathematics Education Across Time and Place aims to help mathematics teachers teacher educators and anyone else interested in mathematics education appreciate the path this discipline has taken through the ages To understand the historical and social context for schools and the place of mathematics within them we meet a variety of mathematics educators from different times and places Though fictional their lives and social circumstances are based on historical documents and professional sources They range from ancient Greece to modern Zimbabwe from Persia to British Columbia from Islamic Baghdad to revolutionary Paris from Elizabethan England to twentieth century New York and from the rural one room schools of North America to the modern comprehensive secondary school By sharing the teachers lives we come to understand how they developed their love for teaching mathematics and how their work fit into the larger social context of their time Compensation and Working Conditions , 1995 Consumption and the World of Goods John Brewer, Roy Porter, 2013-06-17 The study of past society in terms of what it consumes rather than what it produces is relatively speaking a new development The focus on consumption changes the whole emphasis and structure of historical enquiry While human beings usually work within a single trade or industry as producers as say farmers or industrial workers as consumers they are active in many different markets or networks And while history written from a production viewpoint has by chance or design largely been centred on the work of men consumption history helps to restore women o the mainstream The history of consumption demands a wide range of skills It calls upon the methods and techniques of many other disciplines including archaeology sociology social and economic history anthropology and art criticism But it is not simply a melting pot of techniques and skills brought to bear on a past epoch Its objectives amount to a new description of a past culture in its totality as perceived through its patterns of consumption in goods and services Consumption and the World of Goods is the first of three volumes to examine history from this perspective and is a unique collaboration between twenty six leading subject specialists from Europe and North America The outcome is a new interpretation of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries one that shapes a new historical landscape based on the consumption of goods and services Shaping the Day Paul Glennie,Nigel Thrift,2009-02-12 Timekeeping is an essential activity in the modern world and we take it for granted that our lives are shaped by the hours of the day Yet what seems so ordinary today is actually the extraordinary outcome of centuries of technical innovation and circulation of ideas about time Shaping the Day is a pathbreaking study of the practice of timekeeping in England and Wales between 1300 and 1800 Drawing on many unique historical sources ranging from personal diaries to housekeeping manuals Paul Glennie and Nigel Thrift illustrate how a particular kind of common sense about time came into being and how it developed during this period Many remarkable figures make their appearance ranging from the well known such as Edmund Halley Samuel Pepys and John Harrison who solved the problem of longitude to less familiar characters including sailors gamblers and burglars Overturning many common perceptions of the past for example that clock time and the industrial revolution were intimately related this unique historical study will engage all readers interested in how telling the time has come to dominate our way of life Novus Ordo Seclorum Forrest McDonald,1985 A witty and energetic study of the ideas and passions of the Framers New York Times Book Review An important comprehensive statement about the most fundamental period in American history It deals authoritatively with topics no student of American can afford to ignore Harvey Mansfield author of the Spirit of Liberalism California. Court of Appeal (2nd Appellate District). Records and Briefs California (State)., Received document entitled APPLICATION FOR LEAVE TO FILE AMICUS CURIAE Journal of Library History, Philosophy, and Comparative Librarianship ,1986 The History and Sociology of Technology Society for the History of Technology,1982 America, History and Life ,1987 Provides historical coverage of the United States and Canada from prehistory to the present Includes information abstracted from over 2 000 journals published worldwide Our Country Michael Barone,1990 A sweeping history drawing upon election returns political polls news reports and statistical abstracts that tell the story of how the country of our parents and grandparents became our country and that of our children The North Carolina Historical Review ,2005 Regulating Reproduction Lynn M.
