Laslett,2000 This masterful study charts both the common ground and the telling differences in development between two widely separated coal mining communities one in Lanarkshire in the Clyde valley of southwest Scotland the other in northern Illinois which became a prime destination for Lanarkshire colliers seeking a better life in the New World in the years following the Civil War Challenging the prevailing exceptionalist paradigm of labor history Laslett provides a thorough explanation of the American and Scottish miners divergent approaches to collectivist solutions He traces the progressive heightening of militancy and the rise of industrial unionism on both sides of the Atlantic as the coal mines became increasingly mechanized and as the interests of miners and mine owners divided along class lines Drawing on a profound knowledge of both communities Laslett demonstrates that with the exception of electoral politics the process of class formation in Lanarkshire and northern Illinois was very much the same

The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,1996 The Farm Boy Monty Bryden,2019-01-08

Monty Bryden s story spans almost a century and takes him from his childhood idyll within the farming community of Argyll in Scotland through the precarious world of commodities trading import and export At times his life story reads like an epic action movie escaping hired killers in the dark underbelly of Central Africa facing years in jail for international fraud and battling two separate life threatening cancers The book details his life from the beginning from meeting his great love to farm management from leading a family life to adventures abroad in Venezuela to Europe and deepest Africa where he traded in commodities and beyond As a young man he came face to face with death on the farm trapped underwater behind the wheel of a runaway oil tanker and during a treacherous flood in Italy when he spent a long and anxious night perched high up in the swaying branches of a none too secure tree facing the fear that he lost his wife and young children as they were swept away by strong and violent currents Yet his closest dice with death came at the hands of a paid killer in Africa having become involved in a major international fraud which hoodwinked several global banking giants and brought some world leading commodities brokers to their knees in a textbook anatomy of a major scam of mammoth proportions aided by the incompetence and secrecy of the world banking community Having also won the battle of two life threatening cancers in his later years Monty now in his 90s is about to embark on his next big adventure His story is both an education and inspiration
