S. C. Rower,Museo Guggenheim Bilbao,Museo Nacional Centro de Arte Reina Sofía,2003 Through the Looking Glass Richard H. Brown,2019 Through the Looking Glass examines John Cage's interactions and collaborations with avant garde and experimental filmmakers and in turn seeks out the implications of the audiovisual experience for the overall aesthetic surrounding Cage's career As the commercially dominant media form in the twentieth century cinema transformed the way listeners were introduced to and consumed music Cage's quest to redefine music intentionality and expression reflect the similar transformation of music within the larger audiovisual experience of sound film This volume examines key moments in Cage's career where cinema either informed or transformed his position on the nature of sound music expression and the ontology of the musical artwork The examples point to moments of rupture within Cage's own consideration of the musical artwork pointing to newfound collision points that have a significant and heretofore unacknowledged role in Cage's notions of the audiovisual experience and the medium specific ontology of a work of art

Elemental Sculpture Todor Todorov,2014-03-17 This book represents a research endeavour in the area of contemporary sculpture describing an unexplored tendency in the development of the relationship between sculpture and the natural elements referred to here as Elemental Sculpture The studies included in this book reveal the context of locations where this kind of sculpture may be found park urban landscape nature and discuss the impact of these places on the development of sculpture This book examines the tendency towards Elemental Sculpture as part of a new level of relationship between man and nature in arts and in general It presents in depth research of contemporary sculpture the roots of Elemental Sculpture and its development in the works of such well known sculptors as Barbara Hepworth Henry Moore Alexander Calder George Rickey and Susumu Shingu among others Sculptures created by the author in the area of Elemental Sculpture during 35 years of his professional career are included and described from theoretical and practical points of view Alloys Marin R. Sullivan,2022-03-01 A new look at the interrelationship of architecture and sculpture during one of the richest periods of American modern design Alloys looks at a unique period of synergy and exchange in the postwar United States when sculpture profoundly shaped architecture and vice versa Leading architects such as Gordon Bunshaft and Eero Saarinen turned to sculptors including Harry Bertoia Alexander Calder Richard Lippold and Isamu Noguchi to produce site determined large scale sculptures tailored for their buildings highly visible and well traversed threshold spaces The parameters of these spaces atriums lobbies plazas and entryways led to various designs like sculptural walls ceilings and screens that not only embraced new industrial materials and processes but also demonstrated art's ability to merge with lived architectural spaces Marin Sullivan argues that these sculptural commissions represent an alternate history of midcentury American art Rather than singular masterworks by lone geniuses some of the era's most notable spaces Philip Johnson's Four Seasons Restaurant in Mies van der Rohe's Seagram Building Max Abramovitz's Philharmonic Hall at Lincoln Center and Pietro Belluschi and Walter Gropius's Pan Am Building would be diminished without the collaborative efforts of architects and artists At the same time the artistic creations within these spaces could not exist anywhere else Sullivan shows that the principle of synergy provides an ideal framework to assess this pronounced relationship between sculpture and architecture She also explores the afterlives of these postwar commissions in the decades since their construction A fresh consideration of sculpture's relationship to architectural design and functionality following World War II Alloys highlights the affinities between the two fields and the ways their connections remain with us today
